THIS WEEK'S BIBLE THOUGHT THE LAST ENEMY: God is unto us a God of salvation; and unto Jehovah the Lord belongeth escape from death.—Psalm 68:20.

KEEP CHILDREN AT HOME Parents, keep your children at home. Infantile paralysis, that dread disease, much more prevalent among children than among older people, that horrible disease which has left in its wake so many erstwhile splendid specimens of physical manhood and womanhood crippled for life, has spread to the Albemarle, with Edenton reporting the first case east of the Chowan River, the victim being a small colored child.

It is high time that parents realize that the time for the effectiveness of preventative measures is before and not after the disease strikes in their midst.

There is certainly nothing to be gained by parents becoming hysterical after they have by their own negligence allowed their children to be exposed to some one from whom the disease may be contracted.

Infantile paralysis is in the neighborhood. It is a fact that paved roads and automobiles have broadened our neighborhood to include not only Chowan County but other communities once remote from us. We can reach these neighbors in Edenton much quicker than we once could those who lived only five miles away.

Neighborhood visiting of children should not be allowed just now.

The careless or indifferent parents who take their children on visits into communities where they know the disease exists not only menaces the safety of their own children but increases the hazard of others in the community.

To the reasonably prudent man or woman the actions of such parents are hard to understand. Such negligence on the part of parents makes more difficult the safeguarding care which the prudent parents would exercise.

Incidentally, it is this careless type of parent who becomes excited after they realize the possible result of their actions.

There is no reason for hysteria. But there is grave reason for prudence. Now is the time for precaution.

In the words of Dr. G. E. Newby Perquimans County Health Officer, spoken two weeks before a case developed in the Albemarle, "Parents, keep your children at home!"

A GOOD EXAMPLE

Hats off to Buncombe County! Officials of that county have announced that they will no longer intrust the lives of the school children of that county to school bus drivers. They will supplement the amount allowed by the State which has been slightly increased for the coming school year, and employ adult drivers for the school busses.

That one county in North Carolina has awakened to the urgency of the need of better safeguarding the lives of the school children who ride to and from school in busses, is worthy of note.

The State has never provided adequate pay for school bus drivers. Only a school boy or girl could afford to work for the amount allowed. This is wrong. It may be that the consolidated school and the school bus are good things but unless provision can be made for the safety of the children, the system is wrong.

The slight increase made in the pay of bus drivers this year by the State may be an incentive to other counties to assume responsibility for the school children and supplement the amount in order to employ adult bus drivers.

The people of North Carolina are grossly negligent of the children who ride in busses and unfair to the youngsters they employ as bus drivers. Few school boys of sixteen or eighteen years should be allowed to shoulder the tremendous responsibility of driving a school bus containing 40 or 50 children to and from school every day.

Allegheny County sheep growers cooperated in the regional wool pool in which over 80,000 pounds of wool was sold for 29 cents a pound.

The pine seed broadcasted in Lee and Moore counties in early March did not come up to a full stand though there is a fair stand of the loblolly seedlings. The long leaf seed did not germinate so well.

Fertilizer Placement Affects Cotton Yield

Results this year from experiments in fertilizing cotton have strengthened the belief that the method of applying fertilizer has a big influence on the yield of the crop.

In the experiments it was found that where the fertilizer was applied in bands on both sides of the seed ten times as much cotton survived unfavorable soil and weather conditions as was the case where the fertilizer was placed directly under the seed.

This was a greater difference than had been found in previous years, said Dr. H. B. Mann, agronomist in soil fertility at the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station, but it bears out the fact that the side placement of fertilizer gives the best result.

On an average during the past four years, he added, the seed germination was twice as great with the side band method of application.

This method also gave an average yield of 1,514 pounds of seed cotton to the acre, as compared with 1,080 pounds when the fertilizer was placed under the rows.

The ideal placement, Dr. Mann said, appears to be in narrow bands about two inches below the level of the seed and two and a half inches to each side of the seed row.

Similar results have been noted in this and other States with truck crops. Many of the larger Irish potato growers are using planters equipped to apply the fertilizer to the side of the seed when planting.

Cotton planters of this type are also available at reasonable prices, Dr. Mann said, and he recommended them especially to farmers who use large quantities of fertilizer or who have found it difficult to get a good stand of cotton.

Timely Questions on Farm Answered

Question: My hogs seem to be infested with lice. What should I do to control the pests?

Answer: Grease the pigs with waste oil from the automobile. This will kill lice and other external parasites affecting the animals. However do not expose the pigs to direct sunlight immediately after greasing them.

Question: Is it a good practice to plant cowpeas on tobacco land when the crop is "laid by"?

Answer: It certainly is. The cowpeas will improve the land if plowed under or may be used for a supply of legume hay. The tobacco will not be injured as the bottom leaves will be primed by the time the peas begin full growth. Usually, however, it is best to use the peas for soil improvement and the vines will not make much growth unless the tobacco ripens and is harvested early.

Progressive tobacco growers are not afraid to improve their land nowadays because they have found that they can use more plants to the row or balance the fertilizer to take care of the increased fertility supplied by legumes.

Question: My bean vines are being destroyed by beetles. How can I combat them?

Answer: Dust with magnesium arsenate. Mexican bean beetles have appeared in large numbers this season and will be very destructive to late snap beans unless control measures are used. The insects may be controlled with a magnesium arsenate dust or spray or by using the new Rotenone dust. This latter is being recommended quite generally now because it is non-poisonous to humans but it is more expensive than the magnesium arsenate. If you have only a few rows of beans in the garden, very good results may be secured by picking the adult beetles each day.

One of the best small grain harvests in years, report Rowan farmers who increased their production of wheat and oats this season.

LET US MAKE YOUR VACATION TRIP SAFER

BEFORE you start on your holiday trip, let us completely inspect your car. There is no charge for this service and it will assure you of a safer and more enjoyable trip.

For the convenience and safety of car owners Firestone has established more than 500 Auto Supply and Service Stores throughout the country, and thousands of Firestone Dealers are also equipped with complete Auto Supplies and complete Service Departments, to test and service your tires, brakes, batteries, spark plugs, in addition to power lubrication and crank case service.

AVOID THE DANGER OF BLOWOUTS

Firestone removes the danger of blowouts by preventing their main cause—internal friction and heat. This is accomplished by Gem-Dipping.

THERE ARE THREE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS THAT WILL SOLVE YOUR PROBLEM OF WHAT TIRES TO BUY:

1 "Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

2 "Are they blowout-proof?"

3 "Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

Recent tests by a leading University show that Firestone High Speed Non-Skid Tires stop a car 15% quicker than any other of the leading makes.

For eight consecutive years Firestone Tires have been on the winning car in the dangerous Pike's Peak Race where a skid means death.

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have the most amazing records for being blowout-proof of any tires ever built. In the gruelling 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis, May 30th, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Not one of the 33 drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Ab Jenkins drove his 5,000 pound car on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires over the hot salt beds of Utah, 3,000 miles, averaging 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 120°, without tire trouble of any kind.

Firestone High Speed Tires not only give you more than 50% longer wear, but also lowest cost per mile. In fact, unequalled mileage records of thousands of car owners add undisputed evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Equip your car with a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Non-Skid Tires, the safest tires ever built and avoid the dangers of skidding and blowouts.
