AN OPPORTUNITY FOR LAW ENFORCING OFFICERS

With the District Conference for the instruction of law enforcement officers to be held only twelve miles away, in Edenton, every single officer of Perquimans County, including of course, the town officers, should make every effort to attend.

This is the first time in history that any such gathering has been planned for the instruction of town and county officers of North Carolina.

The announcement is made that the conference is being arranged through the Law Enforcing Officers Division of the Institute of Government by the leaders of city, county, State and federal officers in North Carolina, plans for which were adopted at the State-wide School of Law Enforcing Officers held at Chapel Hill last summer.

That among the topics for instruction and discussion at the conference in Edenton are rules of evidence, arrests, searches and seizures, investigations, preparation of cases for trial, and others, ought to appeal to any person in any way connected with County or town government.

Certainly there are many things the officers should learn. This is no reflection on officers who have had no opportunity before to receive first hand instruction in the duties of their various offices, and it is a fact that this matter of instructing law enforcement officers in the duties of their office has been sadly neglected in the past. It is sadly true that in too many cases the officer has not been sufficiently interested in the matter to attempt to find out for himself the things he should know.

The county or town officer who is really interested in his job and who wants to make a success of it and who is conscientiously trying to fill his office with credit will attend this conference in Edenton and learn everything he can about the duties of his office, and will follow it up by cooperating when the time comes to hold the schools of law enforcement in the county.

Crime prevention and highway safety are the primary objects back of this movement on the part of the Institute of Government. Both are timely objectives. Every worthy citizen in the land is interested in this matter. That the first step is to instruct law enforcement officers in the duties of their office is obvious. The law enforcement body must be intelligent if it is to be efficient.

Every town and county officer in the entire district should attend this important conference. Perquimans County and Hertford officers cannot afford to miss the opportunity.

ACTION IN ADVERTISING

(From The Book & Shoe Recorder) "Advertising is the very life blood of trade; without it there could be no momentum, no speed of turnover upon which both employment and profits depend."—John Benson.

Advertising is probably the least understood and the most underestimated of all the major economic forces.

And yet, Advertising is largely responsible for our high standard of living.

Advertising tells the world about new things and new uses for things.

Advertising stimulates the imagination and creates the desire to possess.

Advertising creates energy in that it makes people work harder to be able to buy the things they want.

Advertising creates more rapid turnover of goods and naturally of dollars.

Advertising will be, foremost among the forces that will make 1936 a much better business year.

Imagine, if you can, a world without advertising.

It would mean the dark ages all over again.

HIT-AND-RUNNERS ALL

(The News & Observer) An automobile driver ran over little 3-year-old Clifford Smithwick, Jr., of Colerain. An automobile driver left him in the road with a fractured skull, one eye torn bloody out of its socket and the other eye driven back into his head. A day later he died. Officers have arrested a man and charged him with the crime. If guilty certainly he deserves the severest punishment possible under the law. But whether this man is guilty or not such broken children as little Clifford ought to

SPORTS TALK

By "White"
The Perquimans Indians dropped their second grid encounter with Lewiston last Friday. The score was 24-13 in Lewiston's favor. The local team played well but were unable to stop the hard driving Lewiston eleven. The Indians were able to pile up a couple of touchdowns and one extra point against their opponents.

By the way, ample transportation was provided for the football players on Friday.

The Perquimans High plays a return game with Oceana on the local grid, next Friday. In Oceana a couple of weeks ago the Indians put up a good fight against the Oceana eleven.

The Indians will be out there Friday in full force, after the scalps of the boys from Oceana. Take them on for a little ride, boys.

The Edenton eleven and the Elizabeth City High football teams meet in a conference clash Friday at Edenton. This should prove a very interesting game. Each team is sure of taking the bacon home. Edenton has not lost a game this year, although the boys played a scoreless tie with Roanoke Rapids, in Roanoke Rapids, last Friday, in a conference battle.

The game should be plenty good. Wonder if Edenton will keep her undefeated record.

The teachers took a 21- to 20 basketball game from the "Hi Y" girls last Thursday.

The teachers' team was not made up entirely of teachers, but several outsiders, as well as students who were not members of the "Hi Y" team played for the teachers.

The game was very close and the teachers did not score but 2 points in the first half, but came up from behind to run up 19 points in the last quarter to top the 20 points run up by the "Hi Y" team.

Blanche Everett starred for the teachers, making several fine shots.

From the looks of the playing in the teachers and the "Hi Y" affair on Thursday, it would seem that the girls are going to have as good a basketball team as the one that ran wild last year, not knowing what defeat meant all the year. That was quite a record, and it may be equalled this year. Here's hoping you do it, girls!

Carolina added another win to their schedule this past Saturday. They still haven't been defeated this year, and they have high Rose Bowl hopes. Again the Carolina goal line was uncrossed by an opposing team. Georgia Tech went home without a tally.

HIT OR MISS

"Snake Oil," is said to have aided "Dr. Buzzard" in his escape from the chain gang.

"Dr. Buzzard," alias C. A. Jordan, was serving a term on the Williamson Chain Gang for practicing medicine without a license in Perquimans. Incidentally, it was the intention of the officers to have "Dr. Buzzard" returned to Perquimans for this term of Superior Court, where he was charged with obtaining under false pretense.

But last week, according to the information received in Hertford, the quack doctor was not well. He complained of suffering terribly with his back. Relief was sought in "Snake Oil." He rubbed the back well that night with the liniment, which has a peculiarly pungent odor. That night he saturated his shoes well with the odoriferous oil. Later on, when the opportunity arose, he quietly slipped away from the camp, and bloodhounds were unable to catch the scent of "Dr. Buzzard." The high smelling "Snake Oil" had done its work well.

That barbecue pit the Rotarians are talking about building sounds interesting, doesn't it?

Carl Rogers, the Perquimans County High School Athletic Coach, said the boy had "split vision." And Mr. Rogers was delighted. It seems that a football player who is endowed with this ability to see, not only objects straight ahead, but those both to the left and to the right of him at the same time, has a great advantage over the boy with ordinary vision.

The remark of Coach Rogers was passed on. The boy had "split vision." It reached the ears of the boy's sister eventually. It sounded pretty awful to the girl, "split vision." "Hurt in the eye!" she exclaimed. "I knew he was going to get hurt if he kept on playing football."

HALLOWE'EN PARTY ENJOYED BY WHITESTON YOUNG FOLKS

Mrs. D. A. Winslow entertained her Sunday School class at a Halloween party at her home at Whiteston Saturday afternoon. Games and music were enjoyed, after which the children were lined up and told to march into the dining room, where ice cream and Jack-o-lantern cookies were served. The dining room was attractively decorated with autumn leaves and fall flowers. On the table as a center-piece was a Jack-o-lantern cut from a huge pumpkin, all lighted with candles, setting on a green hill which arose from an autumn landscape. A small window scene of autumn branches behind which was an old witch chasing a black cat, caused much merriment.

Mrs. Winslow told the children a story while they enjoyed the refreshments. Those present were: Catherine White, of Hertford; Barbara Winslow, Lina Winslow, Hilton White, Clinton R. Winslow, Ernest M. Winslow, Quincy Riddick, George Riddick, Seldon Rountree, Carlton Rountree, Elihu Winslow, Clarence Winslow, Elmer Lassiter, Lyndon White, Percy Winslow, Jr., Lester Baker, Gale Winslow, Dolan Winslow, and Miss Clara Winslow.

Be enough to stir the people of this State out of the complacent pessimism with which they regard their bloody roads.

It is not necessary that children be blinded, deformed and killed on the roads of this State. Old Death, now leering at our complacency, can be sharply restricted at any time we are actually stirred into indignation and ready to vent that indignation under the law upon the deadly swine who drives automobiles regardless of the safety of others, the beasts at wheels who drive on after striking children. But until we as a people are stirred to such indignation, we are hit-and-runners all. We are smugly sorry for the "accidentally" dead but we haven't got the time or the interest to do anything about it. We are all of us speeding on past little dying Clifford Smithwick and hundreds like him, and as a State by our lethargy we are leaving them and more after them in the road to bleed to death on the pavement and in the dust.
