U. S. GIVES GASOLINE THIRD DEGREE

It's satisfying to know that you can buy the same way

IN THE U. S. SERVICE, there are just two kinds of vehicles... "ordinary" and "emergency".

But it's the emergency type... the fire-engines and the ambulances... for which the Government specifies a fast-starting, more powerful gasoline.

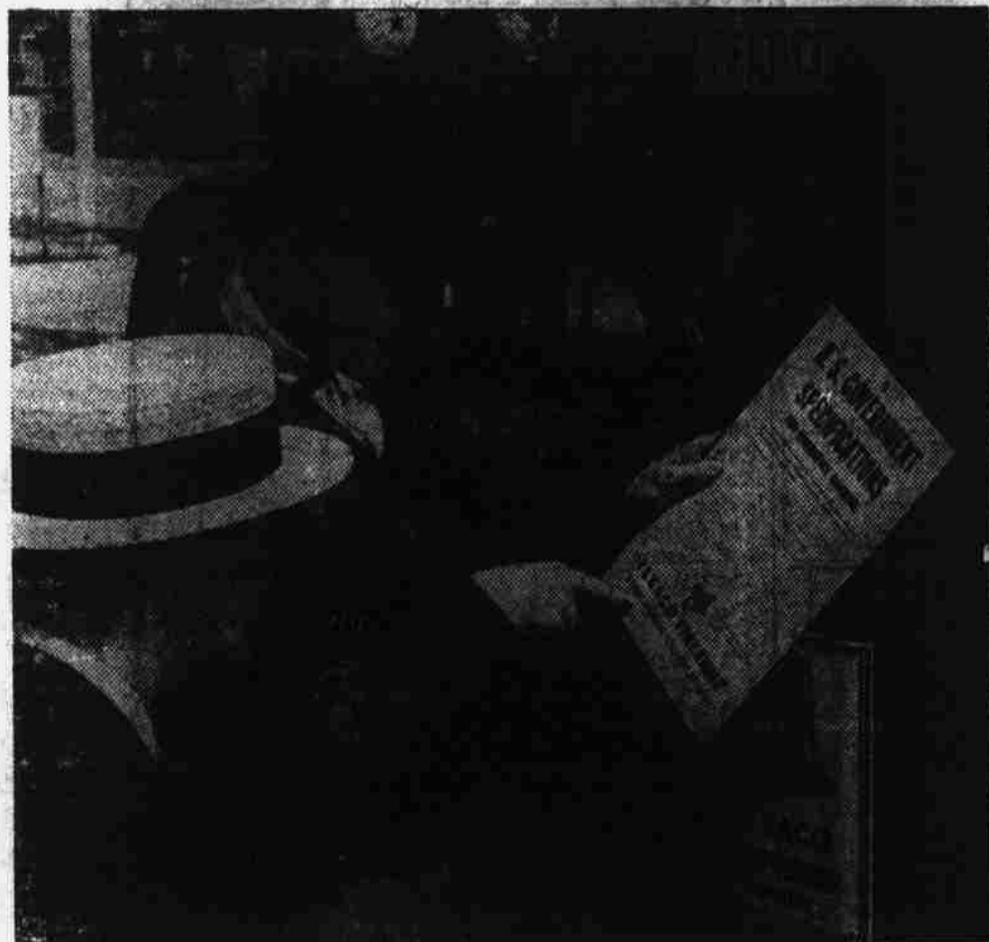

Here's your cue. You can buy a gasoline for your car that matches the high specifications which the Government sets.

THERE'S A WAY to be sure... to make certain that your gasoline is as good as the Government requires... or better.

Use nothing but Texaco Fire-Chief. Why? Because we say it is "peppier"? Because we claim it's "faster-starting"?

No. There's a much more assuring reason than that. It's this... Fire-Chief gasoline meets the high Government specifications for emergency duty!

SERVICE STATION MEN tell us, "Motorists are glad to get the low-down on a gasoline... the way Texaco gives it to 'em."

Motorists themselves write, "It's good to know that when I buy Texaco Fire-Chief... I'm buying gasoline as scientifically as the Government."
