BLAME IT ON THE WEATHER

That habit we have of always pouncing upon any extraordinary happening or circumstances and using it as an alibi is amusing sometimes. The habit applies very particularly to weather conditions. We can and do blame so much on the weather. Grandma lays her pain in the neck on the east wind, and Grandpa blames it on the west wind when the chimney smokes.

It is doubtful if any weather ever got the blame for more numerous and more diversified happenings than the recent cold spell.

The weather was directly responsible for four persons in Perquimans sustaining broken bones; the weather was responsible for the schools in Perquimans closing for a week; the weather was responsible for bad accidents among a large number of our people; the weather was responsible for the terrible condition of some of the roads.

And now The Perquimans Weekly steps forward to timidly suggest that it is because of the weather that there are so few personal news items in the paper this week from the various communities. Some of the correspondents, particularly those who do not live on hard surfaced roads, were unable to get away from home, and, therefore, could not learn any news to write. There was very little coming or going for several days in certain of the more isolated communities.

PLENTY CLOTHING FOR COUNTY'S POOR

Dozens upon dozens of garments, warm winter garments, underwear, dresses, overalls, needed by so many of the poor people of Perquimans; stacks of sheets, pillowcases; piles of heavy warm quilts, all piled up in the Community House, where it was made, laid by for nobody knew what!

The people who have known about these articles which should have been in the hands of the folks who need them during the bitter cold weather, and who have been waiting for weeks to see what distribution was to be made of them, have grown impatient, and there has been criticism of the seeming indifference of some one higher up in authority somewhere who failed to hand down to those waiting below for orders the instructions to give out these garments made presumably for the poor by the women working for the WPA.

Well, it looks like they are at last to be distributed. Miss Ruth Davenport, who has been sent to Hertford to serve as case worker for the Welfare Officer, in the new set-up to aid the poor, is to make investigation and to place these articles in the homes where they are needed.

The news was received with relief by those interested in the matter. Miss Davenport told the Board of Commissioners on Monday that she could distribute these articles just as soon as she could get a room large enough in which to handle them. They have to be gone over and sorted and arranged according to sizes, so that selections can be made of the proper sizes. The Commissioners agreed at once to furnish the room and the work is to be begun immediately.

There are many needy ones in rags to whom these articles will be a veritable godsend.

NOTICE

As I am leaving Hertford permanently in the near future, I wish to notify all persons desiring to have completed any unfinished dentistry that it will be necessary to get in touch with me immediately.

This also applies to those having unpaid balances.

Traveling Around America

A "MONTE CARLO" IN AMERICA

THERE'S as much excitement here when the wheels turn, as there is in Monte Carlo.

This is the Casino at Vina del Mar—a swanky, cosmopolitan place where roulette, baccarat, (Chemin de fer, as this most exciting of games is known elsewhere) and practically every other game of chance is in order every night. In addition to the large gaming saloon which has eighteen roulette tables, there are libraries, drawing rooms, dining rooms and a cabaret theater, which will seat 1200 people.

This Casino, a magnificent new hotel just opened, and nearby bathing resorts are fast bringing Vina del Mar to the front as one of the world's leading lidos—the Biarritz of the New World. It is located half way down the coast of Chile about six miles from Valparaiso, a port visited regularly by luxurious ships sailing weekly between New York and South America's West Coast.

It is in "Vina" that the elite of Chile spend the summer: their villas set in gorgeous gardens and protected from view by high stone fences reach down almost to the ocean; and in front of them the glistening beaches with their promenades and bathhouses follow the outline of the sea. During the summer season from January to March races are in full swing which attract sportsmen from all over the world.
