Young Colored Men Plan Amateur Night On Monday, April 6

An Amateur Night performance will be given by the Young Men's Progressive Club, an organization of young colored men, on Monday night of next week, April 6, under the direction of Sam Wilson.

The entertainment will be given at the Colored School in Hertford, and 40 per cent of the proceeds will go to the school, while 60 per cent will go to the Young Men's Progressive Club.

It is announced that several amateurs have already entered the contest and that there will be a lct of talented young people on the pro-gram who have never before appeared in public.

The first prize will be given by The Perquimans Weekly and the second prize by Gregory's 5, 10 and 25 Cent Store.

The program starts at 8:30 and a large crowd is expected. A small admission fee will be charged.

Special invitation is given to white people by the managament and special seating arrangements have been made for them.

The Young Men's Progressive Club is an organization of young colored men, the special objective of which is better citizenship and community pride. There are eleven members of the Club, nine of whom are graduates of the Hertford Colored High School.

For Early Flowers

EARLIER blooming of some of the L popular garden flowers may be obtained by planting them indoors about six weeks before they are to be set out in the open. They should be placed outdoors, of course, only after the ground has warmed and all danger of frost is past.

A few of the flowers which may be planted early indoors include the delphinium, pink, gaillardia, lobelia, myosotis, pansy, Iceland poppy, salvia, stock and verbena.

The following may be planted indoors a week or two later: Ager-atum, snapdragon, aster, dahla, nicotiana, petunia, phlox drum-mondi, salpiglossis, scabiosa and vinca rose

Seed of these flowers may be obtained at your corner store at a sufficiently early date to allow you to give them an inside start. Seed of other favorites, which may be procured at the same time but which should be saved for later but which should be saved for later outside planting, include the sweet alysaum, calenduia, calliopsis, candy-tuft, four o'clock, marigold and nas-turtium. These are earlier and faster growing than the others.

Faster growing than the others. For the inside planting, fill a cigar box or florist's "flatt" with good, vich loam, covering the seeds with a thin sprinkling of soil. The boxis' should have small holes (about quarter-inch in diameter) in the bottom so they may be set in water and the soil moistened by absorbing" bsorption

If the small plants are too thick, some should be picked out. The boxes should be placed in a sunny window and kept at a temperature of around 70 degrees. If desired, the small plants may be transplanted to pots or other larger containers. Before setting outdoors they should be "hardened off," placed outdoors in the shade six or eight mild days.
