

NOTHING ON HIM

Mr. Newrich—Yes, sir, I started in life a barefoot boy. Mr. Oldfam—I, too, was born without shoes.

In a Coma

Sam had gotten to school barely on time. He was scarcely in his seat when the teacher said: "Sam, stand up. Do you understand the importance of punctuation?"

Sam—Well, I was on time, wasn't I?—Washington Post.

Lost Teeth? Oh, No!

Little John came in from recess with one of his front teeth missing. "Well," exclaimed the teacher, "I see you have lost your tooth." "Oh, no," replied the child earnestly, "I have it in my pocket."—Indianapolis News.

Proper Language

Visitor—Is your son who has just graduated from college a help to you on the farm?

Famer—Yes. If it wasn't for him the language which I address to the livestock would be terrible ongrammatic.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Wanted Full Details

"Here," said the sightseeing guide, "was fired the shot heard round the world!"

But the studious young man fresh from college was far from being satisfied.

"Is the specific consumption of time required for the reverberation of the trajectory to circumnavigate the terrestrial sphere also within your scope of knowledge?" he inquired.—Pathfinder Magazine.

BIGGER 'N' BETTER

Pelican—Yes, Mr. Fish, you just fill the bill!

Unreasonable

Lem Higgins—What's Lovinia up to now, Ma? I just seen her spreading mud all over her face.

Mrs. Higgins—Why that's beauty clay she's puttin' on to make her look pretty.

Mr. Higgins—Gosh all hemlock. It ain't added no beauty to nary a turtle in a million years.—Capper's Weekly.

Strange Animal

Four-year-old Bobby was taken to see the circus parade. At dinner his father said to him, "What did you see in the parade, Bobby?"

"Oh, daddy!" exclaimed the youngster, "I saw elephants and they had their tails on the wrong end."—Indianapolis News.

Indirect

"And now," asked the teacher, "will anyone give me an example of an indirect tax, please?"

"The dog tax," announced the pupil. "Why do you term that an indirect tax?"

"Because the dog doesn't pay it."—

Faint Heart

Dentist's Daughter—Have you asked papa for my hand?

Candidate—No. But I've tried four times. Every time I step into his office I lose my courage. Today I allowed him to pull my fourth tooth as an excuse.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Take Another Look

Suspect—Well, boy, what are you looking at me like that for?

Zealous Boy Scout (on guard at a reservoir)—Please, sir, we're looking for a foreign gentleman with 50 tons of chemicals concealed on his person.—Pearson's Weekly.

SPECIAL ORDER

Mrs. Justwed—I'll take that chicken, and then I want two pounds of beef-steak, and have it rare, please.

Going Up!

Sampson—Hey! Don't strike that match; this tank is full of gas! Katsal—Oh, it's all right, this is a safety match.

Timely Questions On Farm Answered

Question: What must I substitute for green feed to keep my layers in health and production?

Answer: Where green feed is not available, a balanced laying mash reinforced with a potent fish oil should be kept before the birds at all times. The addition of from 5 to 7 1/2 percent of alfalfa leaf meal will, in most cases, provide ample insurance for the lack of this green feed.

Question: Does altitude make any difference in the time of processing in canning fruits and vegetables?

Answer: Yes. Water boils at approximately two degrees lower for every 1,000 feet above sea level and it is necessary, therefore, to cook products longer in high altitudes, as the lower temperatures will not sterilize as readily as the sea level boiling point.

Question: When should I select my seed Irish potatoes for planting next year?

Answer: Seed potatoes should be selected at harvest time. Go through the field just before general digging and dig separately a large number of hills, keeping the potatoes of each hill to themselves.

Specialists To Tell Of Summer Practices

Now that rains have broken drought conditions over a large portion of the State, farmers are redoubling their efforts to produce a crop this year.

Realizing this, extension specialists who are to appear on the Carolina Farm Features radio program this week will place particular emphasis on the proper procedures to be following to secure the largest possible yields.

Tobacco and cotton, the two largest cash crops in North Carolina, probably suffered the greatest setbacks. Farmers, now far behind in their cultivation of these two crops, are having to work rapidly to produce even a fair-sized crop.

According to specialists of the Extension Service, crop conditions in the Coastal Plain section look much better than those in the Piedmont where a smaller amount of rain has fallen.

The rains have also brought out green feeds, which will help livestock and poultry raisers.
