BIBLE THOUGHT FOR WEEK

CLEAN SPEECH: Let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that yet stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel; and in nothing terrified.—Philippians 1:27, 28.

PROCRASTINATION

"Procrastination is the thief of time." Who doesn't remember exactly how that word "procrastination" looked at the top of the clean, white page of the old copy book? It was a beautiful new word, a word the meaning of which had to be inquired about. Most of us have learned all about it since.

"Never put off until tomorrow that which you can do today."—Franklin. "Unhappy he who does his work adjourn, and to tomorrow would the search delay; his lazy tomorrow will be like today."—Perrins.

"Undue procrastination indicates that a man does not see his way clearly."—Selected.

"Indulge in procrastination, and in time you will come to this, that because a thing ought to be done therefore you cannot do it."—Charles Buxton.

"The man who procrastinates struggles with ruin."—Selected.

And so on, and so on. All of which is but another way of admitting that that which should have been written on this page yesterday, or the day before, or perhaps the day before that, was deferred until today, and today there is no time to write.

However, to quote again: "Never do today that which you can put off until tomorrow. Tomorrow may give clearer light as to what is best to be done."

There! The whole thing is clear. Waiting, procrastinating, if you please, has solved the problem. The waste of time and effort in giving expression to whatever the editor of The Perquimans Weekly may think is really unnecessary. Upon reflection, it is evident that the thing had better not be said.

"Thoughts unexpressed may sometimes fall back dead, but God himself can't kill them when they're said."

NEW PEANUT STATISTIC LAW

President Roosevelt yesterday signed into law the new measure providing for the publication of statistics on peanuts in the raw state. The law will operate similarly to that controlling cotton which requires ginners to report the number of bales ginned and warehouses and others the amount of cotton stored or on hand.

We have not seen a copy of the peanut statistics law, but it probably provides for operators of picking machines to report the number of bags picked. After the nuts are marketed, millers, warehousemen and all persons or firms buying or storing the raw product will be required to report to the agricultural department periodically.

If the statistics law works well with cotton factors we see no reason why it should not be as helpful to the peanut industry. It seems to us that it will reduce opportunities for speculation and have a stabilizing effect upon the market.

It should be a protection to millers and to processors. The carry over known, it should have the effect

Maple Bedroom Suites Most Popular At Sale

"Maple bedroom suites" was the quick response to a question put to W. M. Morgan, the furniture man, as to what particular item had proved the most popular bargain in the big sale now going on.

The Morgans are having a big sale and the people are taking advantage of the splendid bargains offered in furniture, stoves, refrigerators, and other articles.

But Mr. Morgan insists that the maple bedroom suite bargain has proved more popular than any other.

of governing production and thereby prevent surpluses. Shellers and cleaners would be able to take full advantage of the law of supply and demand which regulates prices. Producers would be protected as well through this same knowledge.

It seems to us that this law places the peanut industry on a higher plane than ever before in its history. No one will ever again be taking a leap in the dark so far as the actual supply of peanuts on hand is concerned. It will reduce if not eliminate the gamble.—Suffolk News-Herald.

"I WOULDN'T RISK MY LIFE ON ANY OTHER TIRE"

Says Louis Meyer—
Only three time winner
Indianapolis Race 28 33 36

EQUIP YOUR CAR WITH
Firestone
GUM-DIPPED TIRES
for Greater Safety!

THERE is a reason why Louis Meyer won the 500-mile Indianapolis race this year—and why he is the only man ever to win this gruelling race three times. He always used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, and never experienced the trouble of any kind.

Louis Meyer knows tire construction. He also knows that to drive for 500 consecutive miles over this hot brick track, negotiating the dangerous curves 800 times at the record-breaking average speed of 109 miles an hour, requires tires of super strength and greatest blowout protection, as a blowout on any one of the dangerous curves would likely mean instant death. By the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process every cord in the tires on Louis Meyer's car was soaked and coated with liquid rubber, thereby preventing internal friction and heat. This is the secret of the extra strength and reserve safety built into Firestone Tires.

When you make your holiday trip this week-end, you of course will not drive 109 miles per hour, but at today's higher speeds you do need tires that will give you greatest blowout protection and will stop your car up to 25% quicker. Take no chances! Let us equip your car today with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, the safest tires built. It costs so little to protect lives worth so much!
