

Seeks Recognition Of Albemarle Area

With a view of arousing interest in the creation of a federal park domain in the Albemarle, he says, "many have been going to do something about, but none have," Rev. Aylett Ashby, of Edenton, has addressed letters to United States Senator Josiah W. Bailey and Congressman Lindsay C. Warren. The solons are urged to get behind a movement "to put us into a national park or something of the sort, that our treasurers of history may be known to the edification of the public."

Mr. Ashby said he had noticed where Virginia was clamoring for a park reservation to embrace some of its historic spots in the Norfolk-Yorktown section, and wrote that "if Virginia can do it why can't we?" stating that the Albemarle abounds in history and old places notably "the Devereux place which would surpass Westover if restored"—"the Devereux Place" being an old homestead outside of Hertford in Perquimans County, and "Westover" being one of the nation's most historic and valued shrines on the James River, near Richmond.

So enthused is he over the possibility of action, Mr. Ashby wrote, "I will come anywhere to meet you, for I want to see the ancient Albemarle given that recognition to which it is entitled."

Shrewd Salesman But Taxed Cost of Court

"Want to buy some fish, Mister?" The query came from a Negro youth. The man addressed, who stood on the courthouse square in Hertford, glanced at the boy and then down at the fish. There were two tiny perch and one large Bass on the string.

"How much do you want for them?" asked the man. The answer was twenty-five cents and the sale was made.

It happened that the man addressed was M. Parker, District Game Warden, of Currituck County, who had stopped over in Hertford for a few hours.

The boy, Herman Brickhouse, explained to T. E. Raper, Justice of the Peace, before whom he was tried for the offense of selling Bass, that he was not really selling the Bass at all, but had intended to offer the two Perch for twenty-five cents, giving the purchaser the Bass.

The case was dismissed upon payment of the court costs.

Death Kind To This Perquimans Family

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Winslow, of Whiteston, have been married 53 years. Twelve children were born of this union, every one of whom are still living. Every one gathered at the home recently to celebrate the 70th birthday anniversary of their mother. Their mother's birthday is the time when the family always gathers for the annual reunion.

Each family brought a contribution to the dinner, already prepared, and the long table was extended to seat the entire company. Practically everything in the way of good things to eat which country people can provide was served. Immediately before the meal the family sang the old hymn "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Late in the afternoon ice cream and cake were served, some being sent to sick neighbors also.

Those present included the following sons and daughters with wives and husbands: Mr. and Mrs. Warren Spivey, of Belvidere; Mr. and Mrs. T. Edward Winslow, of Sunbury; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Winslow, of Cypress Chapel, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. James Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carver, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Winslow, all of Belvidere; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jordan, of Hertford; Hubert Winslow, of Bagleys Swamp; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Mercer Winslow, of Whiteston.

A sister of Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. T. N. White, of Elizabeth City, was also present, as well as several nieces and nephews, and thirty-three of the thirty-five grandchildren.

Not once has Death entered the home of this fine old Perquimans County family during the fifty-three years of married life. Mr. Winslow is 82 years old.

Mrs. Anderson Honor Guest At Steak Fry

Miss Gladys Hamrick and Miss Blanche Everett were joint hostesses at a delightful steak-fry, given in honor of Mrs. L. W. Anderson, a recent bride, on Friday evening, at Mathews Beach, in Old Neck.

Delicious steak was fried and served picnic style, with rolls, pickles and iced tea, after which watermelons were served.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rich, of Gettysville, Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Perry, of New Hope; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Harbison, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Darden, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. White.

MASONIC PICNIC ON THURSDAY, JULY 30

C. K. Proctor, Superintendent of Oxford Orphanage, Will Be Principal Speaker

The 31st annual picnic of the Masonic Picnic Association will be held at Tuscarora Beach, near Winton, next Thursday, July 30. This affair for the past several years has been held at Eden House Beach, but this year the Masons of Bertie, Hertford, Gates, Northampton, Martin, Chowan and Perquimans counties have united in holding the picnic at Tuscarora in an effort to raise a substantial offering for the Oxford Orphanage. All the profit of the picnic goes to the Masonic institution at Oxford.

A. O. Kiff, of Ahsokie, president and founder of the picnic, has arranged to have C. K. Proctor, superintendent of the orphanage, at the picnic to make the principal address of the day. Mr. Proctor is an able speaker and doubtless many Masons will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him.

There will be plenty of enjoyment for young and old, including swimming, dancing, boating, games, bathing beauties and good music. Plenty of refreshments will also be on sale during the day.

A general invitation is extended to everybody to go to the picnic, and all who attend are assured that efforts will be made to have an enjoyable time.

Funeral On Tuesday For John L. White

Funeral services for John L. White, 81, prominent farmer of the Whiteston community, who died at his home on Sunday afternoon, after an illness of three weeks, were conducted on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, with the Rev. Mrs. Elizabeth White, pastor of the Up River Friends Church, of which Mr. White was a member, officiating. Burial took place in the Friends Cemetery at Whiteston.

Six grandsons of Mr. White served as active pall-bearers. They were Allison A. White, of Tabor City; Irvin L. White and Traverse White, of Hertford; Clifton White, Norman Winslow and Bernard Winslow, of Belvidere.

Honorary pall-bearers were: W. T. Winslow, Elihu Winslow, John Stallings, A. N. Winslow, W. H. Williams, Jesse Rountree, Buck Rountree, Caleb Nixon, J. C. Baker and R. J. White.

Mr. White, a man of fine Christian character, honored by all who knew him, was a member of one of the old Quaker families of Perquimans, being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William White, of Whiteston. He was born on the farm where he died, having spent his entire life-time of 81 years there, where all of his fourteen children grew to manhood and womanhood. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Eliza White, and ten children as follows: C. O. White and J. Oliver White, of Hertford; Mrs. Sammie Winslow and Wayland White, of Belvidere; Mrs. Arnold Winslow, of Elizabeth City; Mrs. Raymond Gregory, of Gates County; Moody White, Mrs. Jamie Rountree, Mrs. Elmer Winslow and Miss Edith White, all of this county.

Twenty-eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren also survive.

Gives Rate Of Payment For Perennial Grasses

Rates of class II, or soil-building, payments offered North Carolina farmers for seeding perennial grasses under the new farm program have been announced by Dean I. O. Schaub, of State College. The rates in North Carolina and other States of the east central region range from 75 cents to $2 an acre, depending upon the kind of grass seeded.

The payments will cover the following perennial grasses, seeded any time between January 1 and October 31, 1936, with or without a nurse crop, the dean stated.

Blue grass, $2 an acre.

Orchard grass, $1.50 an acre.

Permanent pasture mixtures of grasses or grasses and legumes containing at least 40 per cent blue grass, $1.50 an acre.

Permanent pasture mixtures of grasses or grasses and legumes containing at least 40 per cent orchard grass, $1.25 an acre.

Redtop, or permanent pasture mixtures of grasses or grasses and legumes containing at least 40 per cent redtop, 75 cents an acre.

These payments are offered to stimulate the growing of grass and pasture mixtures that will protect the soil from erosion and provide succulent grazing for cattle and livestock, the dean pointed out.

The payments are not intended to give the farmers a big profit for planting the grasses, he continued, but are intended to help them carry out good farming practices that will improve their land.

Inherited Traits Are Important In Poultry

Some of the most important factors in success with poultry are the inheritable characteristics in birds.

This is why poultry authorities always stress good breeding, said Roy S. Dearstyne, head of the poultry department at State College.

The age at which birds mature sexually, the rate of egg production, the size of the eggs, the ability to continue laying for a long time, and the hatchability of fertile eggs laid by the birds are among the inherit-able traits. By culling out inferior birds and breeding only those which have the desirable traits, poultrymen can build up good flocks that will pay big dividends through the years.

When birds mature early, he said, they start laying early, and the sooner they start laying, the sooner they start returning a profit to the poultryman.

The rate of egg production means the number of eggs a bird will lay during her laying period. Those which lay irregularly cannot be as profitable as those which lay every day.

The size of the eggs is also important, as poultrymen who sell uniformly large eggs get better prices than those who sell small ones.

The hatchability of fertile eggs, which apparently is inherited, is of obvious importance, Dearstyne continued.

Likewise, the ability to continue laying for a long time is a vital factor in determining the profitability of a bird.

Early feathering is another inheritable trait that is of great importance in the production of broilers.
