

Fair At Williamston Opens September 28

A full week of gala entertainment and instruction has been arranged for the Williamston Fair beginning on September 28.

Resident Manager Harvey Walker, who was in charge of the exposition last year, emphasized today that the Williamston Fair would present more extensive and varied exhibits of Eastern North Carolina products and that some of the highest class entertainment available had been booked.

Premium money will total $1,400, and will be limited strictly to residents of Martin, Pitt, Edgecombe, Washington, Beaufort and Bertie counties. This policy was inaugurated to protect local exhibitors from the unfair competition of professionals.

Manager Walker is being assisted in the supervision of farm exhibits by Miss Lora E. Sleeper, Martin County home demonstration agent, and T. B. Brandon, Martin County farm agent.

On the midway of the Williamston Fair will be the Cetlin and Wilson Shows, a colorful, wholesome outfit featuring 20 interesting shows and 15 popular rides. Grandstand entertainment will be enlivened by 10 novelty acts and a glittering revue of talented performers.

School children of Martin and surrounding counties will be admitted to the fairgrounds and the grandstand without charge on Tuesday of fair week until 4:30 p. m. A special program for children is being arranged by Miss Sleeper.

Harness racing will feature the arena program on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Races will be run under the supervision of Joe McGraw, the veteran starter who functions at the famed Hambletonian classic and also at the North Carolina State Fair, which will be held in Raleigh the week of October 12. A number of horses coming to the State Fair will run at Williamston.

Professional automobile races will be held Saturday afternoon to top off a week of gala entertainment.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH
ONCE IN A WHILE?

How to prove, when there is no witness, that you were telling the truth. You snapshot yourself and the fish with a self-timer right on the spot.

HOW often have you opened your snapshot album to view, once more, treasured pictures you have taken of groups of friends or of the family, and closed it with a feeling of regret that you did not appear in these pictures yourself? Or, how often, when you are showing somebody snapshots you took on a memorable occasion, do you hear the remark, "Where were you all this time?" Modestly you reply, "Why, I was just the man behind the camera. Somebody had to take the pictures." But really wouldn't you like to have been in those pictures? Of course, you would.

Obviously, one solution of this difficulty is to let some one else use your camera on these occasions and take some pictures with you in them. Good enough except that that somebody else—Dad or whoever it may be—is missing from them just as you were missing from the others.

There is another answer to this problem and a perfect one. Get a self-timer, which is the name for an attachment which permits most cameras other than the box type to take pictures unattended. It is an inexpensive accessory that fits on the metal button at the end of the cable release which operates the shutter. In the manner of an alarm clock, the mechanism of this gadget may be set to "go off" after a time interval, whereupon it presses the button and releases the shutter. Meantime, you have taken your place in the picture and are looking your prettiest awaiting the snap.

Some cameras have a self-timer incorporated in the shutter. Of course, you must have the camera on a firm support. In the picture to the left above, the camera is fastened with a clamp having a tripod socket. You prepare for the picture by focusing in the usual way and using the same stop opening and shutter speed you would use ordinarily. If you have placed your subjects quite close to the camera, see that there is a particular space in the group for you to enter and don't fail to occupy precisely that space, else you will blanket somebody or, if the space is at the side, you may find in the print that you have lost an arm or so.

Nothing prevents you from taking a picture of yourself alone if you feel that way—which suggests one very important use for the self-timer. Ever go fishing alone and wish there were somebody to take your picture holding up that whopper at the actual scene of the catch? Or, do you always buy one at the fish store?

Democratic Campaign "Opens Formally" In High Point Friday

The State Democratic campaign, which has been gaining momentum for the past two weeks, will be "opened formally" at the Sixth District rally in High Point on Friday, September 18.

It must be admitted, however, that enthusiastic Democrats "jumped the gun" and that the campaign has reached unprecedented September heights in advance of the opening. The visit of President Roosevelt to the Green Pastures rally in Charlotte September 10 was the highlight of pre-opening politics.

"The Green Pastures rally was one of the most inspiring assemblages I have ever attended," said Chairman Winborne. "And I am not talking only about the President. True his speech was inspiring and his appearance, dripping wet and smiling as he greeted the throng in the stadium, was even more so. Yet the thing I will remember longest will be the crowd itself."

The Sixth District rally, to be held at the High Point municipal lake, is expected to attract thousands of Democrats. Among those on the program will be:

Clyde R. Hoey, Democratic nominee for Governor who will make the principal address; Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, former Governor O. Max Gardner, United States Senators J. W. Bailey and Robert R. Reynolds, Congressman William B. Umstead and Robert L. Doughton and other Democratic nominees for office.

But oratory will not be the only thing served up to the Sixth District Democrats. Among other things, 10,000 pounds of pork and 5,000 pounds of cabbage have been purchased for the barbecue.

Clean Midway At State Fair Assured

None but legitimate concessions will be allowed on the grounds of the North Carolina State Fair, which will be held in Raleigh the week of October 12, General Manager Norman Y. Chambliss has emphasized.

"We are going to take even more stringent measures to see that the midway is kept clean and that the public is protected from 'gyp' gambling artists," declared Chambliss. "Every concession will be scrutinized carefully before it is granted space in the fairgrounds. We welcome the cooperation of the public in helping us to keep the State Fair clean and wholesome. If visitors have just complaints, we want them to bring their complaints to us and we will see that any wrong will be righted."

In connection with his emphasis on a clean midway, Manager Chambliss pointed out that Max Linderman is returning to the State Fair for the fourth consecutive year with his "World of Mirth Shows," consisting of a galaxy of wholesome shows and novelty rides.

In addition to the midway attractions, the State Fair has booked some of the world's greatest feature acts for presentation before the grandstand. Nightly performances will be given by "The Revelations of 1936," a glittering revue under the personal management of George Hamid, of New York, an internationally known showman. Hamid recently returned from a tour for talent in Europe, and some of his discoveries will perform in the grandstand arena.

Lucky Teter and his Hell Drivers will present thrilling feats of daredevilry on wheels Tuesday afternoon, which will mark his appearance in Raleigh. In the large eastern fairs Teter's troupe has been a premier attraction this fall. Harness races will feature Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and professional auto races, under A. A. A. supervision, will be the grandstand feature Saturday to top off a week of gala entertainment. A brilliant display of fireworks will climax each evening's performance.

gest poll of over 10,000,000 persons to ascertain who will be the next President of the United States.

North Carolina's returns in this 1936 referendum will be tallied as a unit so they may be compared with the voting in other states, it is announced.

The voting of the post-card ballots is secret as no signature or other identification is required and the return postage is paid by magazine. To guard against tampering and counterfeiting a specially manufactured cardboard is used for printing the ballot, according to the sponsors of the poll, and all spurious votes can be detected immediately and destroyed.

The ballot asks the voter's choice of the seven officially nominated candidates and for hom he or she voted in the 1932 election to reveal the general drift from one party to another.
