Some Worth While Hints To Farmers

By L. W. ANDERSON

Repair and Paint Farm Machinery

The weather for the past several weeks has made outside work almost impossible but it provides a good opportunity for farmers to check up on their farm machinery and make necessary repairs before the busy season begins. Now is a good time to replace those worn out bolts in the plows, have plow points sharpened, grease the leather harness and paint the plows and other farm machinery. Some farmers paint all of their farm equipment the same color. This makes the equipment more easily identified as well as preserving it. Adopt a color for your farm tools and paint all of them the same color and keep them painted.

Check over your planting seed and see if you think they are the type and kind to give you a good crop in 1937. If you are not sure about the germination of your seed, have them tested. If you will send samples to the State Seed Laboratory, Department of Agriculture, Raleigh, they will give you a report on your seed free of charge. Possibly your water pump needs a new leather valve. There is always plenty of work to do around the farm, even in rainy weather. Now is a good time to check over your farm stock and see what is needed. It will save time later when you are too busy to attend to things of this kind.

AN APPRECIATION

I want to express through your paper to customers and friends my sincere appreciation for the patronage given me during the past fourteen months as a field representative for Chas. W. Priddy Co., Norfolk, Va. This work and contact with new and old friends has been one pleasure to me.

I regret that due to my health I am having to resign my work and resort to complete bed rest for several months. This I am doing at Pine Crest Manor, Southern Pines, N. C. I shall be happy to hear from any of you.
