

Proper Care Manure Would Save Farmers Huge Sums Annually

If all of the 8,000,000 tons of farm manure produced in North Carolina each year were properly cared for, the actual value of the plant food contained would amount to over $12,000,000.

This would be equal to about half of the twenty to twenty-five millions spent annually for commercial fertilizers in the State, declared W. W. Woodhouse, Jr., assistant agronomist at the North Carolina Experiment Station. The cash value of the plant food contained in the manure for the average North Carolina farm is $43. The total production would provide for an application of more than three tons per acre each year to every acre planted in corn.

Research workers at the Experiment Station have found that in a corn, wheat, and clover rotation an application of three tons of manure every three years produced an increase in crop production valued at $4.78 for each ton applied above that produced by the same amounts of plant food from other sources.

If the entire 8,000,000 tons were applied to this type of rotation and the value computed on the basis of total plant food contained plus the value of the extra crop increase, it would be worth over $50,000,000, Woodhouse pointed out.

Care should be taken so that a minimum of the plant nutrients found in manure escapes. Barns and lots should be cleaned and the material applied to the fields as often as possible. This should be spread on the fields at once rather than placed in piles to be spread later, the agronomist explained.

Hertford and Elizabeth City split a double header on the local hardwood on Friday night.

These two games proved to be two of the most interesting games to be played in this section for many a moon.

In the opener, the Lady Indians gave the crowd an exhibition of passing and shooting that was tops and defeated the Elizabeth City lassies 47 to 15. Nowell and Morgan led in the scoring for the night.

The second game which featured the Elizabeth City Yellow Jackets and the Perquimans Indians, was by far the most exciting. The teams were evenly matched and both fighting for a lead. At the end of the half the score was 9 to 1 in favor of the Yellow Jackets. In the closed minutes to play quick shots to makeetaoetao to play with the Elizabeth City quint leading 15 to 11, the Hertford boys dropped in two quick shots to make the score 15 all, as the game ended. In the extra period that was played to break the tie the Yellow Jackets chalked up 4 points to the Indians' 1. At the end of a most exciting game the Jackets won 19 to 16.

Again in Weeksville on Tuesday night the P.C.H.S. teams split a double header. But in this affair the tables were reversed. The Lady Indians dropped their game to the Weeksville sextette to the score of 40 to 2.

The Perquimans Girls were not able to match the stride of the Weeksville girls, who had no trouble taking the game from the Hertford lassies.

In the second game the Perquimans boys took a close one from Weeksville, 14 to 13.

The first half proved the Indians way out in front but in the second half the hard fighting Weeksville quint continued to increase their score and in the closing minutes the Hertford boys had only one point lead which they kept until the game ended.

The game was plenty close and gave the spectators plenty of thrills and a good game of basketball.

A double header with Ahoakie will be played Friday night, with the local hardwood. Both games should be plenty good. The first game will get under way at 7:30.
