WORKS UNDER HUDSON RIVER

Tunnel engineer comes off the job—lights a Camel to set him right for heavy eating. He fights compressed air, muck, and 100-degree heat—at 65 feet below the surface! "I play safe and smoke Camels," says Sidney S. Wetzel. "Camels don't frazzle my nerves. With Camels, my digestion runs plenty smooth." Smoking Camels at meals and after helps digestion in this way: the flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—is increased.
