BIBLE THOUGHT FOR WEEK
THE DOOR OF OUR LIPS: Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips.—Psalms.

WHO HONORS MOTHER?
"Don't forget that next Sunday is Mother's Day." It would be interesting to know how many times the words have been spoken or written. Everybody, everywhere, is planning to make some special recognition of Mother next Sunday. Mother's Day has become an institution. The second Sunday in May is observed all over the country, a day set apart when everybody tries in some way to do special honor to Mother.

It is a good thing. Mothers like the fuss their sons and daughters make over them on Mother's Day, and sons and daughters enjoy it. Fathers, everywhere, take pride in the way the children remember Mother on that day. That the day has been too much commercialized is, perhaps, to be deplored. But presents for Mother are all right for those who can afford them. It is all right to become a little extravagant once in a while for Mother. Goodness knows most mothers have strained weary backs and limbs to give pleasure to children who never realized the truth. So if pocket-books are strained sometimes for Mother, what of it?

Yes, it is well that we have Mother's Day. There were some little things which ought to have been called to the attention of sons and daughters long ago, and now that we have Mother's Day it has all been brought up, and Mother's virtues have been sung, and attention has been called to Mother's sacrifices and Mother's love and her care, and so everybody takes a day off every year to honor Mother.

But there is something more to honoring Mother than that. One day in which to give presents and send telegrams to Mother isn't enough. If we are to truly honor Mother it must be done in a different way and it must be done every day in the year.

Not that presents must be sent every day, or long, loving letters written every day. All that has its place. But the boy and girl, the man and woman, who really honors Mother is the boy, girl, man, woman who in the manner of their daily living crowns her with honor.

It is the mother whose sons and daughters reflect in their lives those principles and virtues which she strove to instill in the hearts of her children who is honored by her children, not only on Mother's Day, but every day.

Week's Best Recipe

Baked Indian Pudding—Thoroughly mix 5 tablespoons Indian meal, 2-3 cup molasses, 1 large tablespoon butter, ginger, cinnamon and salt. Stir into 1 quart boiling milk. Let cook until thick, then turn into buttered dish and pour over 1 cup cold milk. Bake in slow oven three hours.

For Flower Growers

For a perennial background there is nothing more attractive than Delphinium. Their tall, graceful spikes and exquisite color lend charm and delicacy to any yard. If seed is planted it should be put in the ground early as it germinates best in a ground temperature of 45 to 56 degrees.

In The Kitchen

Braising, boiling, steaming and stewing are the cooking processes to use for less tender cuts of meat. Try searing the meat first in a small amount of fat. Vegetables and seasonings may be added later. But the most important thing to remember is that a little water and long, slow cooking are needed to break down the meat fibers and make them tender.

The Family Doctor Says

Don't urge the child to eat. You may succeed in getting him to take food yet fail in creating in him an appetite for food. Nature has implanted in each child an urge to eat, which only needs to be directed to the proper foods. But don't urge, and by all means don't threaten.

Housecleaning Helps

Try a mixture of cornstarch and water to remove spots from wall paper. A little spirit of camphor in the water will cut the grease dirt on picture glass and mirrors. A small amount of paraffin placed in the water will give a brighter gloss and color to tiling.

Jolly Game For Fall Parties

WALKING THE TIGHT ROPE—All tight rope walkers are not to be found in circuses these days, because the new parlor game of "Walking the Tight Rope" is fast becoming popular. To walk the tight rope, place a string about ten feet long across the floor. Place empty bottles at intervals of two feet. Have the person who is elected to be the tight rope walker measure off the distance carefully. Then blindfold the victim and have him attempt to walk the rope, asking him to be careful not to knock over any of the bottles, which, of course, have been quietly removed without his knowledge.
