 "Waikiki Wedding" will be shown today for the last time. Those who were unable to see "Waikiki Wedding" yesterday still are not left out. It is a story packed full of romance, beautiful scenery, comedy and music. You hear Bing Crosby sing many beautiful Hawaiian melodies, see Martha Raye as a hula hula girl, and you take a delightful trip to the most beautiful place in the world, the beach at Waikiki in Hawaii. You will witness the rhythmic island dances and hear the melodious native voices singing to the accompaniment of Hawaiian guitars. If there is a spark of romance left in you and if you love beautiful singing and beautiful scenery you should by all means see today "Waikiki Wedding."

Gene Autrey comes again to the State, this time in his latest picture, "Old Corral," on Saturday. Autrey is symbolic of Western justice in this picture, who puts big town racketeers on the spot. He is supported by Hope Manning, a newcomer to the screen, and also by Smiley Burnette, whom you always see with Autrey. "Old Corral" is full of comedy, music and hed hot action. Two five-dollar bills are given to two persons in the audience every Saturday night.

When you see "Wake up and Live" on Monday or Tuesday night you will realize that you hadn't yet begun to enjoy life and that you were waiting for Ben Bernie, whom you have seen in pictures and heard on the radio countless times, perhaps, and Walter Winchell, also of radio fame, who predicts "blessed events" almost before Mr. Stork gets the order, to tell you all about it.

Others in the cast who do their bit toward waking us up are Alice Faye, whose stardom comes from her rendition of "You Naughty Man" in a picture a long time ago; Patsy Kelley whose comedy cannot be surpassed, Ned Sparks, that hard-boiled guy with the cigar, and Leah Ray, the beautiful singing sensation who hails from our neighboring city, Norfolk, Va., and many many more favorites.

This flock of entertainers should be enough to make us all "Wake up and Live."

On Wednesday, prize night, "Charlie Chan at the Olympics" is the feature attraction. Warner Oland, who has portrayed the part of Chan in so many mystery pictures, does some of his best sleuthing in this picture. How he captures the criminal and saves the day will be a real treat for all.

Thursday "Romeo and Juliet," William Shakespeare's immortal love story portrayed by the world's foremost players, Leslie Howard and Norma Shearer in the title role, supported by John Barrymore, Edna Mae Oliver, Basil Rathbone and a host of other great players.

To say more about this picture would be too much like the proverbial attempt to gild the lily.

BAPTIST BRIEFS

By HELEN MORGAN
 The Baptist Church was well filled last Sunday morning. The evening service was called off on account of the service at the high school. The Baccalaureate sermon at the high school Sunday night was preached by Rev. D. S. Dempsey. Many complimentary remarks have been heard about the music Sunday morning.

Turning our thoughts to the future there are many things of interest for which we are anxiously waiting. Miss Elizabeth Poplin, who is coming to assist the pastor this summer, will arrive next week. After June 6th there will be something of interest planned for some group in the church each day. The piano recently purchased for use in the Sunday School and worship service is already in use. It came one week earlier than most of us expected. Don't forget the Chowan Assembly at Chowan College June 7-12.

Our church calendar for the week May 31-June 6 follows:

Monday
 8:00 P. M.—Deacons meeting—very important.

Tuesday
 8:00 P. M.—Regular monthly meeting of our young people. This includes Sunbeams, Junior G. A. and R. A., Intermediate G. A. and R. A. and the Y. W. A. All parents and friends are invited to attend this meeting.

Note—This is one week earlier than the usual time for this meeting. The date has been changed for two reasons. First, many of our young people will be at the Chowan Assembly the following week. Second this will be the first opportunity Miss Poplin will have of meeting our young people and we want her to meet as many of them as it is possible the first week she is here.

Wednesday
 8:00 P. M.—Prayer, Praise and Bible study. Business meeting of the church. Choir practice. Miss Poplin will meet the young people in the Sunday School Auditorium.

Thursday—Saturday
 Arrangements to be made Wednesday night.

Sunday
 10:00 A. M.—Bible School.
 11:00 A. M.—Worship and preach-

DARE COUNTY EXPECTING THOUSANDS OF VISITORS

 dance as well as Mrs. John L. Woodbury, of St. Louis, Mo., who is National regent of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. It will be remembered that in 1896 the U. D. C. were instrumental in having erected the first granite marker at Fort Raleigh to the memory of Virginia Dare.

Governor George C. Peery, of Virginia, recently advised Manteo sponsors of the coming celebration of his intention to be present with Governor Hoey, of North Carolina, during the celebration, and many men and women prominent in civic, business and social life throughout Tidewater Virginia and Eastern North Carolina are already lending a hand on various committees working to make this year's anniversary celebration a successful affair.

Historic Fort Raleigh, a 16 1/2-acre reservation on the north end of Roanoke Island, has been visited by more than 25,000 tourists within the last 12-months who have viewed the restored stockade of hand-hewn logs, the reproduction of the original Fort Raleigh and about a dozen small log cabins with quaint thatched reed roofs similar to the first homes built on the American continent by the gallant little band of English settlers known as the "Lost Colony."

"My conception of what happened to the 'Lost Colony' of Roanoke Island probably will not follow well-established lines," the author Paul Green said while on a recent visit to Manteo in connection with the writing of his new drama. The mystery of the little colony of 118 men, women and children who vanished into the wilderness from Roanoke Island in 1587 will in all probability receive unique and fresh treatment in the hands of the talented Chapel Hill writer and many thousands of interested followers of the drama are anxiously awaiting his new play.

Nearby Nags Head and Kitty Hawk beaches, long popular as a summer resort for hundreds of Elizabeth City, Hertford and Edenton people, will this summer attract many more visitors and ample accommodations for all who would come to Dare County for a few days rest and relaxation on the seashore with a look-in on the big celebration under way all summer on Roanoke Island are assured.

OWNERS OF DOGS IN TROUBLE OVER LAW VIOLATION

 thirty days, to run consecutively with the first sentence, for failure to pay a fine and costs in a former case.

James Felton and Ruth Wright, both colored, expressed their intention of losing no time in having their dogs inoculated when they were convicted and Judge Oakley ordered that the ten-dollar fine imposed in each case be remitted upon certificate being shown that the dogs had been inoculated within twenty-four hours.

Ralph Blake, colored, plead guilty to the charge of having in his possession a pistol off his own premises. Prayer for judgment was continued upon good behavior for two years and the payment of a fine of fifty dollars.

George Armstrong, colored, plead guilty to the charge of operating a male-drawn vehicle on the highway without proper lights. His case was dismissed upon payment of the costs.

Mary Riddick, colored, of Belvidere Township, was charged with assault, with a deadly weapon, to-wit a stick, upon eleven-year-old Herbert Lee Winslow, the son of a neighbor. The woman was found guilty of simple assault and taxed with the court costs, no prosecuting witness fees to be allowed.

Gladys Cooper and Margaret Everett, colored, of Hertford, were found guilty of affray. Gladys was sentenced to jail for 30 days, sentence to be suspended upon payment of half the court costs and good behavior for six months. Margaret was sentenced to the jail for 30 days, sentence to be suspended upon half of the court costs and good behavior for a year.
