Convention To Stress Richer Life On Farms

Farm and Home Week at State College, August 2-6, will focus attention on the theme, "Building a richer farm life."

The program will cover most of the things that make agriculture and rural life more fruitful and satisfying, said John W. Goodman, assistant director of the State College extension service.

"Since the farmstead is a cooperative enterprise in which both husband and wife share the responsibilities and the benefits," he continued, "we are arranging a program that will appeal to farm men and to farm women."

"We are also desirous of having a large number of husbands and wives come to spend the entire week, as every day there will be something worth while on the program."

Rooms will be furnished free in the college dormitories. Other rooms close by will be available at a very low price, Goodman added. Inexpensive meals will be provided in the college cafeteria, and no charge will be made for the classes, demonstrations, and lectures.

Rural ministers of the State have been invited to meet with the farm people, and to hold meetings of their own during the week.

"We are particularly interested in cooperating with ministers to help the church reach more country people and to help them render a broader service in the rural community," Goodman stated.

The various agricultural organizations of the State have been invited to meet at the conference. The Junior Orphanage at Lexington will send a 25 - piece band.

Recreation, band music, and other entertainment will be offered to help make the week "a real vacation as well as an educational event," Goodman pointed out.

Hand Tells the Truth
The hand mirrors its owner every time, according to a palmist. A flabby hand—a flabby mind; long artistic hand—artistic mind; shapeless animal hand—animal mentality; firm business-like hand—a business-like brain; long, nimble, itching fingers—a nimble mind (pick-pocket).

Know Your Language

THE expression "nobody home" is undoubtedly slang when used to denote stupidity. It is, however, slang with the backing of Alexander Pope, one of the most eminent of the Eighteenth Century poets. One of Pope's famous couplets reads:
"You beat your pate, and fancy wit will come: Knock as you please, there's nobody at home."

An eminent man may be a prominent man, but a prominent man is not necessarily eminent. "Eminent" is properly used in speaking of a man who ranks high in his profession or the office which he holds. A prominent man is merely one who stands out from his fellows.

Says Meadow Is His Most Fertile Field

One of the most productive fields on the farm of Joe Brown in Madison County has not been plowed in 63 years.

It has been reseeded only once, and that was just after a flood some years ago had covered the field with several inches of silt.

This two-acre meadow along a creek running through his farm produces four to five tons of high quality hay every year, and occasionally it is used to pasture cattle over the winter.

Brown told George W. Miller, farm agent of the State College extension service in Madison County that the sod of perennial grasses and legumes is so thick that none of the soil has been lost in the past 63 years.

But from time to time when the creek rises, deposits of silt are left on the meadow, and today it has a fertile topsoil several feet deep.

The spongy, porous topsoil will soak up large quantities of rain water and hold it long after the rain has stopped falling, Brown said. Thus the meadow is little affected by long, dry spells.

Miller commented that this one field is a good demonstration of the value of good land in making pro-
