A Tribute

By BOB BATES, Coach
 I would like to pay a tribute to a group of sixteen boys who made up the squad of this year's Perquimans High School football team. From the very first day of practice to the final whistle of last Thursday's game these boys have worked hard, long and faithfully to bring glory and honor once more to Hertford. With the ever present thought of those past five long, busy years of football before them, these lads worked unceasingly with but one objective in view—to produce a team that could and would win.

Their first game was a losing one, but yet in losing I had the feeling that as long as these boys played and fought as well in the future as they had that day, the fruits of victory would not be far off. And then it happened—A Perquimans eleven that would not and could not be beaten staved off repeated thrusts at their rapidly tiring line to win their first victory in five years, beating a strong Plymouth team 8-6. It took a gallant lad's misfortune to produce the spark that led on to a successful season. Paul Tucker played his final game that day, but the fighting spirit that he had shown all year was kept alive throughout the season by the remaining 15 players. Saddened and weakened by his loss the team nevertheless dug down harder than ever to show the people of Hertford that they could produce a winning team. From that day on their record speaks for itself. Five victories and two defeats.

Now their season is over and their suits have been laid away for another year. As their coach, I have appreciated the fine support given to them by the town, and hope that another year will find even better backing for a group of boys who deserve all that they might receive.

I have been proud to be their coach and have enjoyed working with this team. I have celebrated with them in victory and suffered their gloom in defeat. To these sixteen boys alone must go all the credit for a successful season. It has been their hard work plus a fighting spirit that never once gave in which makes me feel proud to be called their coach. My job is off once more to as gallant a band of high school football players that it has ever been my pleasure to know. A salute to you, the football team of Perquimans High—the town of Hertford should be proud of you.

Margaret Broughton has been sick at her home on Church Street for the past week.

Jarvis Ward and Marguerite Ward went to Norfolk, Va., Friday.
 Nancy Darden motored to Norfolk, Va., Wednesday to get medical attention.

Florence Darden spent Thanksgiving Day in Norfolk, Va., with friends and while there she saw the picture "Fire Fly."

Zach Harris journeyed to Chapel Hill Sunday afternoon. He returned home Monday morning.

School Gossip

By NELLIE BUTLER
 No wonder Hazel Madrey looks so blue this week, because last week "Pete" was home, and now he's far away from her.

Marjorie Buck is in the same boat, because her friend came home with "Pete" and now he's gone. Don't take it so hard, girls.

Glenn Mathews surely can make a good selection in getting his girl a birthday present. Boy, what a pretty thing!

Jeannette Perry is getting in good with her boy friend's parents. She had supper at their house last week.

Florence Darden and Ruth Hollowell are both running a race for Bill Arnold. May the best girl win.

Margaret Wheeler (Junior Class beauty) has at last decided to give Mac White a date. Nice going, Mac!

Ellie Mae White decided that she liked bottle coco colas better than fountain ones Thanksgiving, so she could have an excuse to go to Perry's Station, where Leslie worked.

If Walter Simons doesn't stop going on long trips, Elizabeth Nixon will get the "Home Fever."

Darius Elliott says that he is positive he will become bookkeeper at Darden's as long as Nancy Darden has something to say about it.

Edgar Long is looking forward to Christmas when Maude comes home.

Nellie Butler doesn't wait to see if the cars come from Edenton when they get to her house since she heard Melvin Keeter was married.

Katherine Perry looks forward to the days when Joe Perry doesn't have to work. She thinks he will be at school during lunch time.

Sybil Layden has been looking blue lately since Ernest Morgan has stepped going to see her and stopped going to school.

Jeannette Perry can't decide whether she wants to change her name to Feild or let it remain Perry.

Anne Felton says she likes the name Nixon very much. Take it easy, Anne!
