Mrs. W. H. Pitt and her corps of helpers are planning to arrange an attractive setting for the President's Birthday Ball, which will be held at Walker's Hall on next Monday night, and A. L. Skinner, who is chairman of the affair, has secured the services of an eleven-piece orchestra to furnish music.

Miss Gladys Hamrick and her as sistants are arranging for refreshments, which it goes without saying will be all that is to be desired.

All in all, it looks like the party should be a big success, both from the standpoint of a good time and from the standpoint of the amount to be realised to help in the fight against infantile paralysis, which is the pur-pose of these bithday parties for the President which are held annually all over the country. This is the first time that Perqui-

Very Specific!

A town with a bank, but with no street lights, was the description that came to Sheriff J. E. Winslow last Monday of the place where a store had been robbed in this vicinity.

The Sheriff hadn't heard of a store being robbed at Hobbsville, but the description fitted the place, so he telephoned C. B. Hathaway, who runs a general store in the village some twelve miles distant from Hertford and asked if thieves had been at work the night before. They had, responded Mr. Hathaway. He had lost a quantity of cigars and cigarettes, as well as other items of merchandise, sometime during the night.

The merchandise had been recovered by the Norfolk, Virginia, police department. Sergeant Benton, who telephoned Sheriff Winslow, reported that the man ap-prehended with the stolen articles didn't know where he stole them, but did know that the store he robbed was in a little town where there was a bank, but no street lights.

Cox, the widow of Dr. Wallis Cobb Mayes Cox, is not the last will and testament of T. A. Cox, for the reasons that at the time of the execution thereof and continuously thereafter until his death Dr. Cox did not have the capacity to make and execute a will, for that he was not of sound mind and disposing memory at and during the said time, for the reason that the signature of Dr. Cox was obtained by Nina M. Cox by undue and improper influence and duress, and for the reason that the paper writing was not executed in accordance with the laws of the State.

Dr. Cox, who was the brother of all the caveators except T. A. and W. D. Cox, who are nephews, died in Jack-son, Miss., on December 13, following a long period of ill health.
