

Home Agent Gives Advice On Care Of Flowers And Lawn

Attractiveness Depends Upon Care Taken During June

The office of Miss Gladys Hamrick, Perquimans County home demonstration agent, has released the following June Calendar to help in the care of flowers and lawns:

1. The following plants should be pruned now if they have finished flowering and if they are in need of it: barberry, kerria, Japanese quince, deutzia, pearlshrub, lilac, spirea, goldenbell, viburnum, chokeberry, shadblow, sweetshrub.
2. If an attempt is made to water the newly sown lawn it should be well soaked once or twice a week late in afternoon rather than daily sprinkling. Light sprinkling tends to stimulate shallow root growth and makes the plant less drought resistant.
3. (a) Keep your flower garden and small shrubs worked just as you do your vegetable garden. Do not allow grass or weeds to grow up around the shrubs.
(b) Keep woods mold or some form of mulching around azalea and rhododendron to keep down grass; do not cultivate around these plants.
4. If your roses are affected with black spot or if your crepe myrtles are affected with powdery mildew, use fine dusting sulphur on them in the morning while the dew is on, or spray them with Bordeaux Mixture. Be sure that both sides of the leaves are covered.
5. When you have finished with your farm tools, remember to keep them stored out of sight and not scattered over the yard.
6. Collect early perennial flower seed from your garden. Allow them to dry for about two weeks and then plant to have new plants for next year.
7. German Iris may be divided and transplanted now. Cut back foliage to 3 to 4 inches of roots.
8. Pick off all dead blooms from flowers and shrubs.
9. May to August is the best season for propagating soft wood cuttings. Write for directions if you are interested in rooting some cuttings.
10. Sow the following flowers now for next year: Canterbury bells, myosotis, sweet williams, wall flowers, columbines, Hollyhocks.
11. Sow the following annuals for late blooms: alyssum, candytuft, corn flower, larkspur, clarkia, marigold, stocks, snapdragons, zinnias, asters, sunflowers, jupin.

Timely Questions On Farm Answered

Question: This, of course, depends upon laying conditions and the period of molt. The flock should be watched carefully during the early summer and when production falls below thirty per cent it is time to start culling. The earlier the molt, the more rigid the culling. The bird that has been properly fed and goes into a molt in June, July, or even August should be removed from the flock. The price of feed, the feed cost per dozen eggs, and the price that eggs are bringing should also be considered when culling.

Question: When should the poultry laying flock be culled?

Question: Should tobacco plant beds be plowed up after the plants are pulled?

Answer: By all means. The beds should be plowed and all remaining plants killed as these plants furnish breeding places for thousands of insects that spread to the tobacco in the field and cause serious damage to the growing weed. Then, too, failure to plow the bed may result in a serious outbreak of blue mold next year. The bed should be seeded to sweet potatoes or some other garden vegetable immediately after plowing.

Question: What are the requirements of a well-planned home wiring system?

Answer: These farm families having power lines run into their homes for the first time should see that the wiring system provides for comfortable lighting, conveniently located switches, and a sufficient number of well-placed service outlets adequately wired and correctly fused. Extension Circular No. 213, "Wiring and Lighting the Farm Home," may be obtained free from the Agricultural Editor at State College.

Question: What is the effect of fertilization on pastures?

Answer: An occasional application of lime, phosphate, and potash to the pasture will encourage the growth of the most desirable pasture plants such as white clover and blue grass. These plants prolong the grazing period by producing both early and late grazing. As they or other good pasture plants increase in number, the less desirable ones will be crowded out. Eventually this soil treat-

GET AN IDEA FIRST

Bedtime—and an excellent "story-telling" snap. Learn to build your pictures around a central idea.

BEFORE you snap a picture, do you have in your mind a clear idea of what you want the picture to "say"? This is important, because every picture needs a central "picture idea" to give it life and meaning. Especially, every picture with persons in it needs some sort of action (or activity) to give it interest. By "action" I don't mean rapid motion, but merely that the person pictured should be doing something. For example, suppose you have a small daughter, and every now and then you want a new picture of her. Well, don't just get her to stand in a corner of the backyard, and look at the camera while you snap. Relate the picture to her personal life, her daily activities. Look at these ideas: A picture of her climbing out of bed in the morning (you can take it at night, really). A snap of her yawning and stretching, in pajamas. Rubbing sleepy eyes. Talking to her dolls. Playing house. Forging over picture books. Leaving for kindergarten. Helping Mother in the kitchen. Riding a tricycle or scooter. Munching a slice of buttered bread. Being tucked into bed at night. Sleeping soundly with a doll or teddy bear or toy dog.

In all these, she is doing something. And, she will help you get your pictures, if you make a game of it, and suggest that she "play like" she is doing this or that. Indeed, this is a good way to entertain her on a dull day or evening. It's a good picture method. Start with a clear idea, and make the picture to fit it. When one picture isn't enough, snap a series. Make each picture "say something"—and note how they gain in life and appeal. John van Gulder ment will result in the production of an abundant succulent pasture growth which has a much higher mineral and protein content than is found in ordinary pasture plants.

Question: When will Farm and Home Week be held this summer?

Answer: This annual convention for farmers and farm women will take place at State College August 1-5. Extension Service officials are now making plans to produce a meeting that is both educational and entertaining. Tours of Raleigh, Duke University, and the University of North Carolina will be available to those attending. In addition, there will be motion pictures, group singing, recreation, and other entertainment. Special classes in various farm and home subjects will be taught by State College specialists.

Question: Boulder dam, when complete, will have a rated capacity four times that of Niagara.

"I KNOW TOBACCO... I GROW IT!"

Mr. James Graves sells the pick of his crop to Camel

HOW DO I KNOW MY CIGARETTE CONTAINS THE FINEST TOBACCO? BECAUSE I SMOKE CAMELS. CAMEL BOUGHT THE PICK OF MY LAST CROP AND PAID A SIGHT MORE THAN FOR ORDINARY GRADES. MOST GROWERS 'ROUND HERE SOLD THEIR BEST LOTS TO CAMELS TOO. NO WONDER CAMEL IS THE MOST POPULAR CIGARETTE IN THESE PARTS!

MEN who grow fine tobaccos—who sell them—who get the checks—they know the quality of tobacco that goes into various cigarettes. And they say, "Camels buy our finest grades." So, if you want to enjoy a cigarette made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCO—Turkish and Domestic—it's just plain logic to choose Camels.
