BIBLE THOUGHT FOR WEEK

COMPENSATION: Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.—Galatians 6:7.

A SALUTE!

Those flags along Church and Market streets, will surely compel notice—both from home people and from the transients just passing through. In both cases they will serve to call attention to the fact that enough pride is being taken in this town to dress it up on national holidays and for events which have only a local significance.

Eager to give recognition where recognition is due—The Perquimans Weekly hereby salutes the Town Criers and Messrs. J. G. Roberson and V. N. Darden, who conceived and engineered the project, and the merchants who displayed their willingness to cooperate in a worthy civic undertaking by readily purchasing the flags and flagstaffs.

SPEAK UP

Here now is the opportunity for that group of easy-chair sportsmen who continually bewail the lack of athletic activities in Hertford to let themselves be heard before a committee on sports from the Town Criers.

It is understood here that the committee, headed by A. Linwood Skinner, has plans to present at the Friday night meeting (an announcement of which is carried in the news columns of this issue) and wants to hear other plans and suggestions.

Everyone in any way interested is urged to be present and to be heard at this meeting which has as its aim, organized athletic activities.

VOTE TOMORROW

Even if you can't find a single favorite among the candidates lined up and waiting for the starting gun in tomorrow's races you are urged to exercise your constitutional right to vote and show up at the polls anyway—if only for the sake of giving Perquimans its largest vote in history.

The Perquimans Weekly is inclined to agree with Archie T. Lane, candidate for a seat on the county board of commissioners, who after the Belvidere rally, was heard to say, "The crying baby always gets the bottle," meaning that results are most favorable where the demand is loudest, whether the demanding is by the county board or by the crying baby. Therefore, the larger the vote the larger the consideration—no matter from what source we want consideration.

OF ONE ACCORD

Frankly, we admit that we do not know how badly Whiteston and Nicanor need the Turnpike Road, but we do know that it has long been a political campaign promise to the precinct voters.

We must also admit, that, according to speeches at the Democratic rally at Baker's Store Saturday night, Nicanor voters can hardly go wrong on that issue, regardless of how they vote in the county representative race. Brown and Benton have both promised to strain every nerve and muscle to get that road; Benton if re-elected, and Brown if elected.

JUST A WORD, PLEASE!

While the editorship of The Perquimans Weekly has changed hands with this issue, the hope is here expressed that the support of the local merchants, the enthusiasm of the county correspondents and the interest of the readers, will continue.

And while the new editor cannot hope to capture the fine style in writing that is solely Mattie Lister White's, every effort will be made to continue to bring to Perquimans Weekly readers complete and unbiased accounts of news happenings calculated to be of interest to Perquimans County people. Its policies will remain basically the same—"a weekly newspaper devoted to the up-building of Hertford and Perquimans County."

To the merchants and other business interests, without whose advertising support no newspaper can exist, and who have regularly and consistently used The Perquimans Weekly medium of advertising, may it be said that their continued support is solicited.

To the correspondents, that efficient group of women who faithfully report the social happenings throughout the county. In praise of their contributions to the probably most interesting feature of the newspaper, too much cannot be said.

And then to the readers: The subscribers are the life-blood of any newspaper and their new and renewed subscriptions, accompanied by either criticism or words of acclaim, are always welcome.
