

Broughton - Relfe
Wedding Thursday

The wedding of Miss Mattie Bert Relfe, of Hertford, and John Broughton, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., was solemnized in the Hertford Methodist Church on Thursday morning, June 16, at 10 o'clock, was beautiful in its dignified simplicity. The Rev. D. M. Sharpe, pastor of the Church, performed the ceremony.

Against a lovely background of ivy and other greens, in the chancel, there was an artistic arrangement of flowers which included Queen Anne's Lace, feverfew, daisies and other white flowers.

The candles were lighted by Miss Grace Knowles, who wore a dress of pink lace with a broad-brimmed Leghorn hat trimmed with pink ribbons, her flowers being a shoulder corsage of pink roses.

Miss Kate M. Blanchard, at the organ, rendered several selections, which included Schubert's "Serenade," "Liebestraume," by Liszt, and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Charles E. Johnson, sister of the bridegroom, sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert. Mrs. Johnson wore a chiffon dress of luggage tan, with harmonizing accessories, her flowers being Talisman roses.

The Bridal Chorus, from Wagner's "Lohengrin," was used as a processional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as a recessional.

The bride's only sister, Miss Mary Onella Relfe, was her only attendant. Her dress of blue chiffon was made Empire style, with puffed sleeves and V neck line, and was trimmed with fluted ruffles. She wore a pink picture hat, pink shoes and gloves. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of Pink roses.

The bridegroom had as his best man his father, John Broughton, Sr., of Hertford, and the ushers were Preston White, of Norfolk, Va., Charles E. Johnson and Edison Harris.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, N. A. Relfe, was lovely in white. Her silk tulle suit, with short fitted jacket, was worn with a chiffon blouse. A silk tulle hat with kid shoes and gloves completed the all white costume. Her flowers were a bride's bouquet of roses and valley lilies.

For traveling the bride wore a brown and white print ensemble, with luggage tan accessories.

Mrs. N. A. Relfe, the bride's mother, wore dusty pink lace, with white accessories, and a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. John Broughton, mother of the bridegroom, wore green chiffon, with harmonizing accessories, her flowers being white gardenias.

After a wedding trip of unannounced destination the couple will be at home in Norfolk, Va.

The bride, who has been honored at numerous pre-nuptial social affairs, is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Relfe, of Hertford. She received her education at the Perquimans High School and Greensboro College, Greensboro. The bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Broughton, of Hertford. He received his education at the Perquimans High School, Mt. Pleasant Military School and Wake Forest College. He now holds a responsible position with Armour & Company, in Norfolk, Va.

Among the out-of-town people here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M. H. White, of Greenville; Mrs. J. N. White and Miss Maude White, of Norfolk, Va.; Miss Clara Meade Smith, of Edenton, and Miss Ruth Davidson, of Fayetteville.

On May 30 and May 31 at the Perquimans County Training School, Winfall, and Edenton Colored School, respectively, the Negro extension service of Chowan and Perquimans Counties was very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Laura J. Maney to give canning demonstrations. Miss Maney came from Columbia, S. C., being a graduate in home economics with a B. S. degree from Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va. Mrs. Bertha B. Sawyer was booked to hold the canning school, but she was unable to come, so she sent Miss Maney in her stead. Those who were present were greatly benefitted by attending the canning school. They have expressed themselves by saying that they are going back to their communities and put into practice many of the ideas they received by attending the demonstrations.

"Dictator," Roman Word

The word "dictator" is a Roman word to describe a person legally appointed by the senate or governing body for meeting a special crisis during a brief period. He was a constitutional, unselfish statesman, and retired quietly as soon as his brief period ended. There was another title, "tyrant," for men who forced their way to control of the state and tried to remain in power, according to an authority in Pearson's London Weekly. Caesar was assassinated because his enemies said he was a tyrant, not a dictator. Dictators are true statesmen; tyrants are despots.
