Disasters Strike 41 States During Year

Red Cross Aids 420,000 Persons Following Catastrophes

That the past year has not been an easy one for the American Red Cross is shown in a recent report listing disasters necessitating Red Cross relief throughout the United States during the past twelve months.

The report reveals that 129 domestic disasters called for Red Cross aid in 247 counties of 41 states, and that assistance was given to 420,000 persons who were disaster victims.

"That this has been a very active year is obvious when one compares this year's operations with the average of 92 disasters requiring Red Cross aid annually for the past 15 years," Chairman Norman H. Davis said in commenting on the Red Cross Disaster Relief Service report.

These catastrophes included cloudbursts, cyclones, epidemics, fires, floods, forest fires, hailstorms, mine explosions, a school bus accident, a shipwreck, tornadoes, typhoons, and wind storms.

"Disaster relief was the first humanitarian work of the American Red Cross after its organization in 1881," Mr. Davis said. "In the ensuing 57 years the flag of the Red Cross has flown upon every scene of major disaster in the United States. The Red Cross has carried relief—food, clothing, shelter, medical aid, rehabilitation of homes and families—to more than 2,300 scenes of disaster at home and abroad, and has expended over $140,000,000 contributed by the American public in this work of mercy."

The Red Cross policies of relief, the national chairman pointed out, have been established over a period of years through actual experience of its workers in the field. Relief is given on the basis of need of sufferers—not of losses. Loans, he pointed out, are never made, but relief is a gift from the Red Cross in the name of its members and contributors to its work.

"It would not be possible for the Red Cross to carry out such widespread relief activities without the help of thousands of volunteer workers," Mr. Davis said. "Volunteers are the mainstay of the organization, and in the past year's work assistance from many cooperating agencies has made it possible for us to answer the many calls for help."

While relief was being given to victims of natural catastrophes, the Red Cross was not unmindful of the necessity for preparedness plans to meet emergencies that may arise in any American community. Red Cross chapters in hundreds of counties have organized disaster preparedness committees charged with responsibility to map relief plans in advance of need, and to organize resources of communities to prevent duplication of effort and waste of materials when calls for help are received.

These plans are proving especially advantageous in localities subject to frequent floods, tornadoes, or hurricanes, and actual tests of such planning have demonstrated the necessity for such measures.

"The administration of such relief for disaster victims is made possible by annual memberships of millions of Americans in all walks of life," Mr. Davis pointed out. "The extent of Red Cross aid to such sufferers is entirely dependent upon unselfish sharing on the part of all of us."

HAWK ATTACKS FARMER
Syracuse, N. Y.—While getting the cows in his pasture, Paul R. Gelling was attacked by a huge hawk which swooped at him, grasped his thumb in a talon, beat him with its wings and scratched him with its beak. He killed the hawk by casting it to the ground and stepping on its head.

WHITESTON CLUB MEETS

The Whiteston Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Eunice Winslow on Thursday, November 10. The meeting was opened by singing "Follow The Gleam." The Collect was repeated in unison. The members decided to have a Christmas party for the December meeting with their husbands as guests. Mary W. Winslow and Eunice Winslow were appointed as program committee.

The following Thanksgiving program was given: Talk on Thanksgiving, Lucille Lane; reading, Thanksgiving, Mary W. Winslow; song, "What Our Club Has To Be Thankful For," composed by Mary W. Winslow; poem, "Mighty Thankful," Reby Stallings.

Miss Hamrick gave an interesting demonstration on hosiery, and distributed literature to illustrate her subject.

During the recreation period two contests on Thanksgiving were enjoyed, and a treasure hunt caused much fun. The clues led to the kitchen, where the treasure was found. It consisted of grape juice, cake and salted peanuts, which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Those present were Lucille Lane, Mary Monds, Allie Winslow, Alice Winslow, Edna Winslow, Della Winslow, Eunice Winslow, Annie Winslow, Reby Stallings, Mary S. Winslow, Mary W. Winslow and Gladys Hamrick.

HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

Miss Ruth Nachman charmingly entertained the members of her bridge club and a few friends at her home on Wednesday evening.

After several progressions of bridge, the hostess served a salad course.

Those playing were: Misses Grace Knowles, Patricia Stephens, Bernice White, Hilda Knowles, Lillian Blanchard, Hazel Mayes, Marion Raper, Virginia White, Carolyn Riddick, Helene Nixon, Mary Onella Reife, and Mrs. John Broughton, Jr.
