

Charlie Vann and Lilly Byrum Married Sunday At Rocky Hook Church

Amid a setting of beauty and simplicity, Miss Lillie Byrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli T. Byrum, of Edenton, became the bride of Charlie Vann, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Vann, of Woodland, Sunday afternoon, February 25th, at the Rocky Hook Church. The vows were spoken before an improvised altar of long leaf pine and Southern smlax flanked by baskets of Calla lilies and tall standards bearing white cathedral tapers. Rev. Frank Cale officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

Percy Smith and George Burgess, of Abokie, were ushers and lighted the candles.

The bride wore an aqua dress of sheer wool with a bolero trimmed in fox fur. Her hat was of rose and the other accessories were of brown. She wore a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses and valley lilies. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Jessie Byrum, who wore a dress of dusty rose with a corsage of Talisman rosebuds.

The groom had as his best man his brother, Hugh Vann, of Raleigh.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Alethia Forehand, pianist, and Miss Nora Mae Ward, soloist. Miss Ward sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "I Love You Truly." During the ceremony "Indian Love Call" was softly played. Lohengrin's Wedding Chorus was used as a processional, and Mendelssohn's Wedding March for the recessional.

After a short wedding trip the couple are now at home in the Winslow apartments.

Mr. Vann is assistant manager of the D. Pender Store.

GULLIVER'S TRAVELS

"Gulliver's Travels," Jonathan Swift's amazing adventure story of the English sailor's Odyssey in the land of miniature people, comes to the screen as a full-length animated cartoon, in Technicolor, in the Paramount production of the same name, which will be given its first local showing next Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre, Hertford. Although Swift, the great eighteenth century clergyman and author, penned the story as a bitter satire on the human race in general and English politics in particular, it has since become a classic more because of its extraordinary fantasy, broad humor and thrilling romance. Covering the first half of the Swift narrative, the screen "Gulliver's Travels" traces the English sailor's early adventure in "Lilliput"; his shipwreck, his growing influence over "King Little," his promotion of a romance between "Princess Glory" and "Prince David" and his stopping of a war between "Lilliput" and the neighboring kingdom of "Blefuscan." The eight hit songs written especially for the animated cartoon include: "Faithful," "Forever," "I Hear a Dream," "Faithful Forever," "It's a Hap-Hap-Happy Day," "Bluebirds in the Moonlight," "All's Well" and "We're All Together Now."

Thieves Enter Service Station Sunday Night

Thieves entered the Bill and Viv Service Station at the corner of Church and Grubb Streets Sunday night, taking four dollars in silver from the cash register which they broke open.

They overlooked a smaller amount of cash in another compartment of the cash register.

The robbery was discovered by Hazel Matthews when he opened the station for business on Monday morning. It was stated that nothing more than the cash was missing.

Entry was apparently gained through the ladies' room which opens outside the station; the thieves removing a window which gave access to a storage room in the rear of the station, and then removing another window to get into the men's room, which opens in the station proper.

Vivian and Hazel Matthews are the proprietors.

permissible, however the objection was overruled, and Owens took the stand.

He offered Elliott's statement that he entered by the window and then let the other two men in through the door.

The State asked for a nol prosee on a warrant charging Hoffer with assault on Wiggins, Elliott and McIntyre.

James Skinner, Negro, who plead guilty to a charge of simple assault on J. Umphlett, of Durants Neck, was ordered to pay the costs of court. The trouble resulted from an argument over a rebate of gasoline tax on fuel used in motor boats. Mr. Umphlett is a fisherman and Skinner worked for him.

Timely Questions On Farm Answered

Question: Is it important to have grazing crops for poultry?

Answer: Yes. But one of the most important points in growing grazing crops is to maintain a constant supply of tender succulent growth. To secure this, the crop must make a rapid growth, and continue to grow over a long period. Aids in securing this are a fertile, moist soil, commercial fertilizer, a well-prepared seed bed, plenty of rainfall and the choice of the right crop. Grazing crops planted on poor land should be well-fertilized the first year or two, after that fertilization may be lighter or less frequent, as very little fertility is removed by grazing.

Question: How can I produce a high quality of cream?

Answer: The production of good cream starts with the cow. Clean milk cannot be secured from dirty cows; therefore, keep the cows clean. Before milking, wash and dry the udder. The milking should be done in clean, well-lighted stalls. The lounging shed or place where the cows stay, except at milking time, should be kept well bedded and dry. Ample bedding serves the double purpose of providing comfort for the cows and increasing the volume of manure, a valuable product.

Question: Is the AAA making payments to North Carolina farmers this year for growing a home garden?

Answer: Yes. A payment of $1.50 will be made to any farmer for planting a home garden. However, he must plant at least one-tenth acre of vegetables for each member of the family and must protect the garden from livestock and poultry. Of course, he must use good cultural practices. Not more than one acre of vegetables will be required of any farmer for payment.

Louis-Godoy Fight Film at State Theatre

Fight fans may see films of the World's Heavyweight Championship bout between Joe Louis and Arturo Godoy at the State Theatre next Thursday night, March 7.

These, according to Manager Littleton Gibbs, are exclusive official motion pictures of the fight. Louis won on a divided decision from the sensational South American boy. The vote at the end of fifteen rounds saw two judges giving Louis the decision, and one giving Godoy twelve rounds, two to Louis and two scored as draws.

The pictures are taken blow by blow at the ring-side. The fight pictures are in addition to the regular State Theatre program.
