Ten Young People Attend Convention

1,157 Beta Club Members Gathered In Raleigh Friday and Saturday

Ten Hertford young people attended the State Convention of Beta Clubs at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh last Friday and Saturday. It was the largest convention of its kind ever held in a hotel in North Carolina, 1,157 club members from North Carolina being in attendance. Clyde Erwin, State superintendent of public instruction, and Senator Robert R. Reynolds were among the speakers. The convention wound up Saturday night with a huge dance in the Sir Walter ballroom.

Beta Clubs throughout North Carolina are composed of outstanding students, honor students, so to speak; those making a high average in all high school studies. Among those who attended from Hertford were Miss Ruth Hollowell, Miss Maewood Pierce, Bill Cox, Billy Blanchard, Clarke Stokes, Cedric Moore, Harrell Johnson, Durward Reed, Zack Harris, and Miss Esther Jennings Evans, member of the Perquimans County High School faculty.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Joe Towe, Jr., entertained a number of his little friends last Friday evening at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Towe, Sr., at a birthday party.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the Easter motif being effectively carried out. The birthday cake was topped by six candles.

After the little folk had enjoyed various games and stunts, the cake was cut and served with ice cream. Each guest received an Easter basket filled with Easter candy as a favor.

The guests included Tommy Sumner, Julian Winslow, Mabel Martin Whedbee, Carroll Berry, John Morris, Jimmy Thatch, Ben Thatch, Jr., Hiney Hines, John Holmes, Howard Felton, Alfred Williams, Jeanna Williford, Katherine Alice Nixon, Corbin Dozier, Patsy Harrell, Mary Elliott Brinn, Mary Beth Parry, Garland Newbern, Peggy White, Frank White, Charles White, Jella Ann Stokes, Sue Perry White, Julian White, Jr.
