

Do You Know Where Doctor Harris Is Buried?

He Lived In Hertford Before 1849; Grave Is Somewhere In Cedarwood Cemetery

Do you know where Doctor Harris is buried? He lived in Hertford before 1849. He lived in the house on Dobb Street where County Accountant W. F. C. Edwards now lives.

Doctor Harris (initials unknown) was the man who first taught dentistry in North Carolina, and the North Carolina Historical Association wanted to mark his grave about a year ago.

But they couldn't find it. Records in the Masonic Lodge show a record of his burial, and the deed of the Edwards place describes it as the place where Dr. Harris lived for a number of years. It is further known that Dr. Harris was buried in Cedarwood Cemetery.

But at this point everything comes to a blank wall; the grave was unmarked. There are no empty plots in Cedarwood Cemetery, so evidently the remains of other persons are in the same plot with those of Dr. Harris, but nobody knows which plot.

Broughton Names T. B. Sumner His Campaign Manager

Three Leading Contenders For Governor Are Now Represented By Local Men

Added to the list of Perquimans County Campaign managers for gubernatorial candidates has been the name of T. B. Sumner, who was appointed Monday to stump for J. M. Broughton, it was announced Tuesday by Broughton's State manager, E. B. Denny.

Mr. Sumner is engaged in the cotton seed oil business and operates a truck line in Elizabeth City. His home is in Hertford.

With Mr. Sumner's appointment, the three outstanding candidates are now having their interests looked after by three local men; Sheriff J. Maxwell in favor of Allan J. Maxwell for Governor, and Charles E. Johnson, Perquimans County prosecuting attorney, has been named county manager in the campaign of Lieutenant Governor Wilkins P. Horton.

Mr. Johnson has told this newspaper that his candidate will speak in Hertford, but he didn't mention the date. Maxwell is the only candidate who has been heard here, but then not as a candidate. He spoke during the County Fair last September on Farmers' Day.

Broughton will deliver the graduation address at the high school this spring.

It appears that the three leading contenders will all be heard here.

BRIDGE HOTNESS

Mrs. Oscar Felton charmingly entertained her bridge club Tuesday evening. Those playing were Mrs. T. B. Sumner, Mrs. Charles E. Johnson, Mrs. H. C. Stokes, Mrs. Durwood Reed, Mrs. J. G. Roberson, Mrs. B. G. Koonce, Mrs. Tommy Jessup, and Miss Kate Blanchard.

High score prize was awarded Mrs. Johnson, while Mrs. Jessup received the floating prize.

A delicious salad course was served by the hostess.

Twenty-eight children under four years of age were run over and killed in North Carolina last year.

Candidates Filed With Election Board

Among the candidates who had filed with L. N. Hollowell, chairman of the board of elections, before two p. m., Wednesday afternoon, are:

For Board of County Commissioners: E. U. Morgan, L. L. Winslow, A. T. Lane and E. M. Perry.

For Board of Education: S. M. Long, W. E. Dail, D. L. Barber.

For County Treasurer: Jacob L. White.

The final filing date is April 13th. Candidates already announced but not filed, within the next two days will lengthen this list considerably.

MORE ABOUT BOYCE

Said McNider, in summing up the case, "Both Boyce and Moore have an equal interest in this case. If Boyce is convicted, a sentence hangs over him, and Moore is probably to be commended for setting a precedent. If Boyce isn't convicted, Moore probably has a discharge - waiting for him for over-stepping his authority."

It never came out in the trial why Moore is an ex-examiner instead of a present examiner.

When Attorney Edwards, in his summary, wondered aloud why Moore is an ex-examiner, Moore muttered from his place in the jury-box "That's my business."

An array of witnesses bore testimony to Boyce's sobriety on the night in question. They came from Hertford, near Hertford, from Edenton and from near Edenton.

MORE ABOUT ROBBERY

o'clock Saturday morning. Sheriff Winslow told The Weekly reporter Wednesday that he had suspected the four men since Saturday morning. Phelps was apprehended in Norfolk Saturday afternoon. Officers were already looking for him on the jail-breaking charge when the New Hope robbery took place.

Bogue, Casper and Roughton were taken Sunday afternoon in Currituck County just across the Virginia Dare Memorial Bridge following a fracas in the Morrisette Service Station there.

Bogue and Casper were lodged in the local jail, Phelps was returned to Elizabeth City, and Roughton was confined in Edenton.

Sheriff Winslow said that approximately $700 worth of the stolen property had been recovered.

Among the monies taken from the smaller safe, was an amount belonging to the Sunday School, and another amount - belonging to the Woman's Club. Added to these amounts was $130 in burial expenses for J. T. Biggs that Mr. Perry had stored in the government vault for safe-keeping. The sum in this safe totaled around $300.

In the larger safe, the New Hope Mercantile and Milling Company safe, was more than $2,400 in cash, several checks, and the store's records, as well as Mr. Jackson's personal records and notes. The store was not insured against burglary.

said to Mr. Warren, "The national peanut acreage allotted under the 1940 agricultural conservation program has been reviewed carefully and revised upward slightly to correct inequities between states resulting from incomplete data for non-commercial counties."

"As a result of this revision, the total allotment for North Carolina is now 22,500 acres. Of this acreage 8,000 acres are set aside for growers in counties which are not in 1940 designated as commercial peanut counties. This reserve would provide an allotment for growers in these counties which is comparable to the allotments for similar growers in commercial counties. The remaining 214,500 acres is available for allotment to growers in the commercial counties. All of this acreage has been previously allotted to the growers with the exception of about 1,400 acres, which will be used for correction of errors and for farms which were omitted from the original tabulations."

"The entire amount of the increase is necessary for non-commercial counties, for farms omitted from the original tabulations and for the correction of errors, therefore it will not be possible to increase the allotment to other growers."

Announcement

I hereby announce my candidacy for membership on the Board of Education. If elected, I will endeavor to serve the entire County School System to the best of my ability.
