

Indians Play Listless Ball; Lose To Windsor Final Score 19-0; Local Boys Outweighed In Most Positions

Playing listless football, against a heavier team, proved too much for the Perquimans County High School Indians last Friday . . . they went down to a 19-0 defeat at the hands of the Windsor Lions.

All of Windsor's scores were made by Punk Spruill, who shortly after the game had started raced around an end for ten yards to place Windsor in the lead six to nothing.

Spruill
The Indians came back fighting, as John Wood took the kick-off on his 20 and returned it 20 yards. Wood passed to Byrum for 15 yards and a first, and Byrum clipped off eight at center on a fake reverse. A Wood-Byrum aerial was broken up by Hale and Spruill, but Byrum tore through right tackle for a first down, and the Indians seemed goalward bound. But disaster struck on the second following play as Lowell Spivey, Lion center, intercepted Wood's pass to Byrum. And a Hale quick kick set the Indians back on their 38 as the first quarter ended.

The Lions gained again on three exchanges of kicks and the Windsor boys drove into Indian territory. The Lions took to the air in an attempt to score quickly before the half ended. Hale heaved a long one to Spruill, who dropped the ball with nobody between him and the zero marker. Spruill muffed another, and the ball went over on downs.

The Indians tried their hand at the aerial warfare with only two minutes left in the second quarter. Byrum heaved a nice one to Dillard for nine yards and followed with a fake pass to carry the ball seven more yards through center for a first down. One Wood to Byrum was no good. A spinner lost five yards. Byrum passed half way down the field to Wood, but it was incomplete as the half whistle blew.

Second Goal
In the third quarter the stage was set for the second Lion goal when Byrum fumbled a backfield lateral and Frank Cowan broke through and recovered the pigskin on the Perquimans 35. Hale made five, Spruill 10, Hale to Spruill 9, and then Hale passed again to Spruill on the three yard line, where Wood hit him and prevented a score at that moment.
The Indians rallied a stubborn defense. They held Hale's center plunge on the one yard line and allowed White to make only a half a yard at center. A Spruill to Hale pass was wide. Then Spruill skirted end for the score, shaking off two would-be tacklers. Hale passed to Elmer White for the point.
The Indians were unable to make consistent gains as the quarter ended and the fourth began. Windsor took the ball in midfield. Hale passed to Elmer White in the flat, who ran to the Perquimans 35. Two Hafe to Spruill passes put the Lions on the 11 yard line and apparently on the way to make another touchdown.

Snaps Pass
However, D. J. White staved off the attack by intercepting the next pass and breaking through the Windsor players to the 25 yard line. Byrum punted out of danger after the Indians were unable to gain on the ground.

The Hertford eleven was catching on to the Lions air attack as Frank Dillard in midfield intercepted another Lion pass heaved by Hale. Dillard went around left end for eight yards. Byrum made nothing on a fake reverse and lateral. Wallace Chappell tore through center for 13 yards and a first down. Chappell hit center for no gain. Chappell's pass to Byrum was incomplete. Byrum got off a nice quick kick aimed at the coffin corner but it bounded over the goal.
The Lions, taking the ball out to their 20, marched up to the midfield. And it was then that Spruill shifted into high gear to carry the ball 50 yards down the sidelines for the final score of the game. Hale's pass for the point was no good.

The final score stood Windsor 19, Hertford 0.

Vegetables Can Be Stored For Winter

There is no reason for discarding surplus vegetables, or for dumping them on a depressed market, says H. A. Niswonger, horticulturist of the N. C. State College Extension Service. But on the other hand, there is no use to store vegetables that are not of high quality, free from mechanical injuries, insects and diseases and mature but not over-ripe.
"If you put an inferior, diseased, damaged product in storage it will come out an inferior, diseased, damaged product, in worse condition than when it went in," Niswonger declared.
The problem of where to store vegetables is important, and the State College specialist makes the following recommendations along this line: Beans and field peas may be picked in the pod, spread out in a warm dry place in the attic until dried, and after being shelled the beans should be placed in tight containers and treated with carbon disulphide to control weevils.
Root crops, such as carrots, beets and turnips, should have the tops cut off, leaving short leaf stems, before storing. They may be stored in shallow crates and placed in the cellar. An occasional sprinkling with water will prevent shriveling. Cabbage and collards can best be stored in trenches out-of-doors. Another method commonly employed in Eastern Carolina consists of pushing the heads of the plants toward the North and covering the stem and base of the heads with soil. The plants are thus left right in the row where they grow.
Sweet potatoes keep best in a dry place, and where the temperature throughout the storage period is around 55 to 60 degrees. Onions should be kept in slatted crates in the attic where the atmosphere is dry and the temperature is around 50 degrees. A basement or cellar is not a good place to store onions. Pumpkins and squashes should also be stored in a warm dry, room at a temperature of 50 degrees.

Wake Forest, Clemson Play Crucial Game

A game, earmarked as one that may go down in history and long be remembered by backers of the rival schools, is scheduled for Clemson's stadium Saturday afternoon between the Deacons of Wake Forest and the Tigers of Clemson.
Wake Forest is the only major conference team which is meeting Duke, North Carolina and Clemson this year. These were the three outstanding clubs in the pre-season figuring. The Deacs have already beaten North Carolina and if Clemson should win from Wake this week, the Tigers would be assured of at least a tie for the crown, since it is unlikely they will lose to any other league team. Then if the Deacs happened to win from Duke, Clemson would lay undisputed claim to the flag.
There are many possibilities hinging upon the outcome of Saturday's game at Clemson, and this coupled with the natural rivalry existing between the two teams adds up to a great ball game.

MORE ABOUT DRAFT

The draft.
It is quite likely that of this figure there will be approximately 5,000,000 young men between the ages of 21 and 36 who are without dependents and are not employed in "essential" jobs that will be eligible to do military training. Thus officials explained the lenient deferment policy.
However, there will be other classifications which will entitle registrants to seek deferment of the training but as yet The Weekly has been unable to learn what these are. It is likely that fuller information on the same will be forthcoming very shortly.
In the meantime . . . if you are of registration age . . . don't forget to register and assist your registrar by doing it early.
