

THERE'S WORK TO BE DONE

Hurry... Hurry. Don't waste time talking or arguing. Don't interfere with the wheels of industry that must turn so swiftly in the days to come. There's work to be done in this country of ours—much work and it must be done in the next five years or perhaps less.

We've got to build a great fleet of airplanes: more than we've ever dreamed we'd want at one time.

We must double the size of our Navy. At least that's what Congress has voted to do.

We must produce tanks and guns; trucks and motorcycles and dozens of other machines vital to a modern army.

We must build barracks and make uniforms and weave blankets for an army of more than a million men before we even start to be strong enough to live in the world as it is today.

At the same time we are turning out this vast array of equipment for defense we must continue to produce for peacetime living. We must even increase the amount of good comfortable every-day things of life we've been turning out the past ten years. We must build stoves and bath room fixtures and refrigerators for new homes and old. We must produce cultivators and tractors for farmers which will in turn be called upon for greater production. We must weave silk and woolen and cotton for good looking new clothes. We must design and make costume jewelry and cosmetics as well as pots and pans if we women are to be satisfied.

Because today, with so many strange and unprecedented things happening, our system of representative democracy is in even greater danger than our country itself! And it is essential to sell ourselves on the efficiency and adaptability of the system of government under which we became the world's economic leader as it is to prove to the world that we're too powerful to molest.

For what would it profit the United States of America "Conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal" to build the greatest air force in the world and lose her belief in the importance of the individual man?

Cotton Referendum Plans Being Made

E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer of N. C. State College, has called upon county and community Triple-A committeemen and county farm agents to begin preparations for the cotton referendum which will be held December 7. Cotton growers throughout the Nation will vote at that time on whether they wish a marketing quota to apply to their 1941 crop.

Cotton marketing quotas have been in effect for the past three years. The 1940 quota was approved last fall by 91.2 percent of the Nation's growers. North Carolina farmers gave quotas a 89.8 vote of approval, 50,737 voting for quotas and only 5,767 voting against quotas. "The secretary of agriculture declared a 1941 marketing quota in September," Floyd said, "when it was determined that the supply of American cotton on August 1, 1940, totaled 24,900,000 bales, or 137 percent of the 'normal' supply. Under the Agricultural Adjustment Act a quota must be declared when supplies reach 107 percent of normal.

"The National quota for 1941 is the same as the one in effect this year, and will make possible the marketing, through the quota program, of about 12 million bales during the year beginning August 1, 1941. This will mean that individual farm allotments will remain the same in 1941 as they were in 1940."

Floyd further pointed out that, with marketing quotas in effect, farmers who plant within their allotments may market without penalty all cotton which they produce in 1941. Farmers who overplant their acreage allotments or who have penalty cotton from a previous crop must pay a penalty of 3 cents per pound on all cotton marketed in excess of their farm marketing quotas.

made through county farm and home agents of the Extension Service.

"This will eliminate extended correspondence," he said, "because we have, for instance, 15 farm dwellings in the new U. S. D. A. list and 52 farm dwellings in our North Carolina list. They range from two to eight-room houses. When a farmer writes in for a set of plans for a dwelling, we seldom have any way of knowing which of the 67 blueprints on file to send him.

"By looking over the illustrated list of plans in the new U. S. D. A. book, and then by studying the descriptions of the 314 plans in the North Carolina bulletin, he should be able to select exactly the plan best fitting his needs."

Wilson Brothers On Mule Buying Trip

Frank and Trim Wilson left Hertford on Thursday for an extended trip through several states for the purpose of purchasing mules to be placed at their Mule Exchange located here in Hertford.

They are expected back at the end of next week, and stated that they were expecting to have a carload of mules here shortly after their return.

Chicks Need Heated Water During Winter

An egg is 70 percent water! That is a fact that C. F. Parrish Extension poultryman of N. C. State College, constantly impresses upon poultry raisers in urging that they provide their flocks with plenty of clean water in convenient fountains. Now, with the approach of winter, Parrish adds this suggestion:

"Arrange for some heated water fountains for the flock to use when cold weather arrives. Water consumption is greater when the chill is taken off, and the more water a hen drinks, the more and the larger her eggs."

The specialist also warns that drafts through openings in the back and ends of the laying house should be eliminated by closing such openings. "Winter is the time to make money from egg production, when the supply is short," he says. "There is a surplus of eggs in the State only during about six weeks in the spring. That leaves about 46 other weeks in the year that our homes and home markets are not amply supplied with quality eggs.

"By selecting chicks of good breeding, and by proper housing and feeding, the farm flock can be managed so as to produce eggs every month in the year. The great need is for summer and fall eggs. If the flock is hatched early in the summer, more care is necessary to prevent partial or complete molt in the fall. However, this can be done quite successfully by the use of wet mash and lights on the laying flock. "Plan now to produce eggs during the 'other' 46 weeks in the year and to supply broilers and fryers according to the needs of your local market."

Free Building Plans Offered To Farmers

Prof. David S. Weaver, head of the Department of Agricultural Engineering at N. C. State College, has renewed the offer of his department to supply building plans free to farmers through their county agents and he announces that 150 or more new plans are available.

The new plans are illustrated in a book just published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, containing a wide range of designs for farm buildings and equipment—from eight-room dwellings to hog troughs and gates. The U. S. D. A. book was prepared to illustrate and list plans agreed upon by agricultural engineers of State Colleges and Extension Services of 15 Southern states.

"With these new plans, and many others drawn during the past year especially for North Carolina conditions by our Extension architect, James H. Walsh, we are better prepared than ever to serve Tar Heel farm people," Prof. Weaver declared. He emphasized, however, that all requests for blueprints should be
