

New Circular Issued And Another Revised

Publication of a new circular on "Azaleas" and the revision of another circular on "Fruits and Nuts for Home Use" is announced by F. H. Jeter, agricultural editor of N. C. State College. Both are available for free distribution to interested citizens of North Carolina.

The former is Extension Circular No. 246, titled "Azaleas," and the revised publication is Extension Circular No. 210, "Fruits and Nuts for Home Use." Requests should be addressed to the Agricultural Editor, N. C. State College, Raleigh, specifying the name and number of the circular.

The Azalea circular was authored by James G. Weaver, floriculturist of the State College horticultural department. In it Prof. Weaver lists varieties of azaleas best adapted to the various climatic and soil conditions of the State. He also recommends methods of propagation, preparation of the soil, planting, mulching, fertilization, watering, pruning, and winter protection.

The latest information on varieties and fertilization of fruits and nuts is incorporated in the revised Extension Circular No. 210 by H. R. Niswonger, Extension horticulturist, and E. B. Morrow, research horticulturist of State College.

The publication on fruits and nuts is expected to be in great demand this year as North Carolina farm people turn their attention towards an improvement in nutritional standards, and towards farm enterprises to supplement cash incomes. "The promotion of health is a defense measure being stressed in rural areas," Niswonger declared, "and fruits are essential to a balanced diet."

P. T. A. Meeting

The Hertford Parent-Teachers Association met in a joint meeting with the Parent-Teachers Association at Perquimans Central Grammar School at Winfall on Thursday night. In the absence of the president of the Hertford Association, Mrs. J. R. Futrell, Mrs. John Symons, of the Central Association, presided.

"Carolina" was sung, after which the devotional was led by the Rev. J. D. Cranford, pastor of the Methodist Church at Winfall, using the 25th Psalm. A duet was beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. R. Winslow and Mrs. J. L. Delaney. Mrs. Symons gave the Welcome Address, with the response being given by Mrs. F. T. Johnson.

Superintendent F. T. Johnson introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. June Rose, superintendent of schools in Pitt County and also legislative chairman of P. T. A. work in North Carolina. Mr. Rose presented a five-point program to be introduced to the 1941 session of the General Assembly at Raleigh.

After the address, the Glee Club gave two selections, also the Perquimans High School Band.

A beautiful urn was presented to the Central Grammar School for having most parents present. The urn was accepted by Mrs. Winslow, president of the Central Grammar School P. T. A.

After singing "God Bless America", the meeting adjourned to meet again in February.

MORE ABOUT WEDDING

The groom had as his best man, Timothy Gregory, of Norfolk, Va. The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. The couple stood before the improvised marriage altar, with its white satin bench, while the Rev. J. Herbert Miller, of Hookerton, uncle of the groom, pronounced the vows, using the impressive ring ceremony. The bride was charmingly attired in a going-away costume of powder blue crepe with navy accessories. Her only ornament was her mother's cameo necklace. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of Sweetheart roses and freesias.

During the ceremony "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" was softly played and the wedding marches "Lohengrin" by Wagner and Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," were used.

The mothers and grandmothers of the bride and groom wore dresses of black crepe with harmonizing accessories, and their flowers were gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony, the young couple left by auto for an unannounced wedding trip. On their return they will make their home in Norfolk, Va., where Mr. Perry holds a position.

The bride is a young lady with a sweet, unassuming and winsome personality, loved by all who know her. She is a graduate of Perquimans High School and for the past two years has been employed at Simon Rutenburg's department store in Hertford.

The bridegroom is a native of Perquimans County. For the past two years he has held a position in Norfolk. He is a young man of rare qualities, industrious and ambitious.

The sincere good wishes of their many friends go with them throughout their future life.

Following the ceremony, during the noon hour, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. White served a delightful two-course buffet luncheon to the wedding guests, numbering about eighty.

Those present from a distance included Mrs. C. L. Williams and daughter, Mrs. C. A. Reep, of South Norfolk, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. White and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chappell and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. White and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, and Timothy Gregory, of Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. E. H. Gilbert, of Hampton Va.; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. West, of Ayden; Rev. J. H. Miller and son, of Hookerton; Miss Mary Louise Chappell, Greenville.

J. M. Benton Wins
Hog Weight Guessing
Contest

A weight-gaining experiment for hogs which was concluded by the Perquimans Feed and Seed Store ended last Tuesday when John Broughton, manager of the store, took Amos and Andy out of the pens which have been their habitat during the past 90 days and proceeded to weigh them at the end of a 30-day feeding program.

Quite a time was had because Amos, who had been fed on Hog Chow and corn for the past 90 days had gained a total of 117 pounds and was quite a hog for two men to handle, but Andy, the other member of the experiment, wasn't quite so tough. . . he had gained only 26 pounds on his diet of middling and corn.

A weight-guessing contest, open to all comers, was held in connection with the growing experiment and out of approximately 225 guesses, J. M. Benton made the winning guess and was awarded a prize, second honors in the guessing (although no award was offered) went to R. M. Riddick, cashier of the Hertford Bank. He missed Amos' weight by just one pound.
