

Recent Bride Honored At Tea Given By Mrs. Thomas Nixon

Highlighting the social events of the season in Hertford, was the lovely tea given by Mrs. Thomas Nixon Thursday afternoon from 4 to 5:30, complimentary to Mrs. Lucius Blanchard, Jr., who before her recent marriage was Miss Ruth Davenport.

The entire lower floor of the beautiful home of Mrs. Nixon was decorated for the occasion with an assortment of spring flowers, featuring yellow daffodils, Japonica and other flowering shrubs, and was lighted by the glow from numerous candles. Wood fires burned in the grates in the spacious rooms.

Mrs. Nixon greeted her guests at the door. In the reception room, Mrs. Agnes Williams received, introducing them in the parlor to the receiving line, composed of Mrs. Lucius Blanchard, Jr., the honoree, her mother, Mrs. M. W. Davenport, of Elizabeth City, and her sister, Mrs. Katherine Harris, of Norfolk, Va., and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lucius Blanchard, Sr., of Elizabeth City.

Miss Marion Morrow received in the drawing room and directed the callers to the dining room, where Mrs. Walter H. Oakey was assisted in serving by Misses Frances Maness, Mary Towe and Jocelyn Wheelbee. The dining table, where Mrs. W. H. Pitt pored tea, was covered with an imported cloth of cluny lace and was exquisite in its appointments. The centerpiece was an unusually lovely arrangement of yellow jonquils.

About 70 guests called during the afternoon, including a number of out-of-town people, as follows: Mesdames A. J. Scott, Jr., W. A. Smith, E. P. Brinkley, S. B. Smith and Mercer Bailey, Miss Isabella Jeannette, and Mrs. B. B. Dawson, all of Elizabeth City, and Mrs. Lloyd Horton, of Plymouth.

WHITESTON CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Leonidas Lane and Miss Lucille Lane entertained the members of the Whiteston Home Demonstration Club at their home Thursday evening, February 6. Bonner Appointed To Important Post

Congressman Herbert C. Bonner has been appointed chairman of the sub-committee on Coast Guard and Coast Geodetic Survey by Congressman Bland, chairman of the committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries.

This was an unusual appointment as members usually serve more than two terms before receiving sub-chairmanships. Mr. Bonner's committee will handle all legislation dealing with the Coast Guard and the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

New Chick Disease Appears In State

H. C. Gauger of the N. C. State College Poultry Department is warning North Carolina farmers to be on the lookout for a new disease of baby chicks that has caused considerable alarm in many sections.

Known as epidemic tremor because affected chicks show a peculiar vibration of the head, the disease has been seen in a few sections for the past three years. However, a comparatively large number of outbreaks have been reported this year, particularly in Chatham County.

Mr. Farmer . . .

It takes a neighbor to help a neighbor. You can't expect somebody hundreds of miles away to understand your problems and the conditions under which you have to farm.

This holds good in buying fertilizers. Naturally, you'd expect a fertilizer made right in your own farming region, by neighbors who know your soil and crops needs, to be the best for you. And you're right.

SCO-CO Fertilizer is made in this section, especially to meet your farming requirements. No wonder it produces such remarkable results wherever it is used.
