Cotton Cooperative At Disposal Farmers

Windsor, Sept. 18.—The trend of prices so far in World War II has closely followed the pattern of World War I. A. V. Cobb, director of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association, said here today upon his return from the September board meeting at which arrangements were completed for placing the facilities of the co-operative at the disposal of farmers who want to hold their cotton for higher prices.

"The big jump in prices in the last war," Mr. Cobb said, "did not come until after the war was well underway. Hostilities broke out on July 28, 1924, but we find that even in late 1915 the price of cotton was only about 11 cents. From 1915 until the Armistice in 1918, however, the price increased by 250 per cent to reach 29 cents a pound. It kept right on going up to a high of 40 cents by 1920."

Cotton and other farm products, however, were not the only things to advance in prices, Mr. Cobb pointed out. "A pair of shoes," he said, "that cost $2.10 in 1915 cost $4 by 1918. Overall that cost 75 cents in 1915 cost $1.67 in 1918. A cultivator which cost $5 in 1915 cost $10 in 1918. Nitrate of soda that cost $48 in 1915 cost $94 in 1918."

Mr. Cobb called upon farmers to consider the position they will find themselves in if they sell their cotton on today's market and then have to buy seed, fertilizer and other farm supplies that go into the production of a new crop at the higher prices that he said are almost sure to come by next spring. "Hold your cotton through the cotton association," he said, "and the expected increase in cotton prices will help to offset the increased prices for the things you have to buy."

The Cotton Association, Mr. Cobb said, "has arranged for official warehouses and receiving agents to receive cotton in all the cotton-growing counties of the State. These warehouses and receiving agents have on hand a supply of tags and are in position to make the Association's advance of 13 cents a pound upon delivery. "For the benefit of the grower who wants to hold his cotton but needs a larger advance," Mr. Cobb said, "we have created a new pool known as the 'R. P. Full Advance.' This pool offers all of the advantages of the regular 'Re-Purchase Pool' plus the added advantage of a higher advance that will not be less than the Government Loan."

Under the "Re-Purchase Pool," inaugurated six years ago, the Association quotes the price it can get for the cotton when the grower is ready to sell. The grower may then take his cotton to his local buyer and, if he is offered more on the outside, he can get his cotton back and sell it where he pleases.

New Plymouth And Chrysler On Display At Towe Motor Co.

The big, 1942 model Plymouths and Chryslers were brought to Hertford this week and are being displayed at the Towe Motor Company showrooms. A large number of people are visiting the showrooms for a glimpse of the new cars.

Several new features have been installed in both cars and, contrary to popular belief, the cars are not lacking in aluminum decorations. The big grille bars which run horizontally from fender to fender are an improvement, and also the interior of the models carry new ideas.

The instrument panel also has a new feature, a safety signal speedometer which indicates the driving speed range at a glance.

The new Plymouths have a 95-horsepower motor which is six cylinders and of L-head design for smooth operation and economy.
