Urge Owners Repair All Farm Machinery

To keep every farm machine in Perquimans County in top-notch condition and place every usable piece of equipment in shape is vitally necessary if Perquimans County is to do its part in the 1942 Farm Defense Program, declares L. W. Anderson, secretary of the County USDA Defense Board.

With the manufacture of new machinery and equipment in 1942 sharply curtailed because of defense demands on supplies of steel, copper, and other metals, farmers will have to depend more upon existing machinery, Mr. Anderson explained. In addition to the scarcity of new equipment, farmers may find the available farm labor limited in 1942.

Any difficulty in obtaining parts or materials need for the repair of farm machinery should be reported immediately to the County USDA Defense Board, said Mr. Anderson.

The Board will attempt to help the farmer or the dealer obtain the needed article. Some local or temporary shortages may develop because of unusual demand for certain replacement parts, but manufacturers will be able to secure sufficient metals to produce the necessary parts. Allocation of steel and other metals will be made manufacturers in order to meet the requirements, provided farmers do not wait until spring to place their orders.

County USDA Defense Boards, acting on the request of Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, are urging farmers to check all machinery and equipment for possible worn or damaged parts and to order replacement parts immediately. Early orders can be expected to get right-of-way, said Mr. Anderson, and by acting without delay, farmers may be able to assure themselves of obtaining their needs.

"If many farmers put off ordering repair parts, some will have to go without them, and valuable crops may be lost as a result," warned Mr. Anderson.

"It has always been good farm practice to use farm equipment as long as possible and to make necessary repairs in the off-season, but now it is a patriotic duty in National Defense as well," concluded Mr. Anderson.
