THE W. C. T. U. MEETS WITH MRS. JARVIS

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its monthly meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. R. Jarvis. Mrs. T. J. Nixon, Jr., gave an inspiring and helpful talk on Prayer and Faith. Mrs. E. E. Payne read the Declaration of Principles of Frances E. Willard, the founder of Temperance. The Union voted to send a sum of two dollars to the Willard Memorial Fund.

A two-minute silent tribute was paid to the memory of the late Mrs. K. R. Newbold, an ardent supporter of the cause of temperance. Resolutions of respect were read for Mrs. Newbold and adopted by the Union.

The secretary, Mrs. E. W. Mayes, called the roll and read the minutes. Mrs. R. T. Clarke, director of Citizenship and legislation, read an article on legislation, what is being done in some other States concerning alcohol and urged that members assert themselves and use their influence to support legislation for public welfare.

Mrs. L. C. Winslow, president, presided over the business session. Several letters were read and plans were discussed regarding the Union.

Mrs. R. B. Reavis was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. T. J. Nixon, Jr., as a visitor. Mrs. R. T. Clarke closed the meeting with a prayer.
