Eating Places Must Report Prices With Local Ration Board

E. Leigh Winslow, chairman of the Perquimans War Price and Ration Board, stated today that local restaurants and other places serving food and beverages must file their prices, charged during the week of April 4-10, with the local board by May 1.

This announcement follows the order handed down by the OPA tending to halt the rising prices of foods served in taverns, hotels and restaurants.

The price board will determine whether existing prices should be frozen or whether price reductions may be ordered by imposition of dollar and cent prices. Each local establishment must file a copy of its prices charged during the week designated by the OPA. This list must be a true copy of the menu for that week.

State Officer Visits Local High School

Dr. James S. Trippett, consulting supervisor for the State Board of Education, visited at the Perquimans High School Tuesday of this week, F. T. Johnson superintendent, stated Wednesday.

Dr. Trippett spent the day supervising various classes and held a teacher's meeting during the afternoon. He highly commended the faculty for the manner in which classes were conducted.

Special Veniremen Required For Court

The other three chosen before recess Tuesday night were M. S. Smith, W. E. Russell and J. C. Butt.

Inasmuch as it was determined that the Chappell case would, in all probability consume the balance of the week's term of Court, Judge Bone announced Tuesday night that all civil cases on the docket, excepting those not for jury trial, would be continued until the next term of Court.

After the special venire of Perquimans jurymen had been exhausted, there was a consultation between the Judge, Solicitor Chester Morris and defense attorneys, P. W. McMullan and John F. White relative to a change of venire for the case. Solicitor Morris sought to have the case moved to an adjoining county in an effort for a speedier trial, but this was blocked and it was then decided to request a special venire of men. Since the county from which these men were to come could not be decided upon, the names of Pasquotank, Chowan, Gates and Tyrrell were placed in a hat and Miss Virginia White was given the job of drawing the county from which the venire was to be drawn.

Little Junie Winslow, son of Sheriff J. Emmet Winslow, had drawn the names of all the special veniremen from a hat during the afternoon session, but he had left the scene before the drawing of the counties took place.

Court re-convened on Wednesday morning with some 70 men from Gates County appearing as a special venire. The twelve Perquimans jurors, who served in the Hurdle case, were questioned and excused from service. Then the task of picking the other nine jurors from the Gates group began. Most of the day and all but two of the special venire from Gates were consumed before a jury was impanelled at about 3:30 o'clock.

The members chosen as jurymen for the case were: J. N. Byrum, M. S. Smith, W. E. Russell, J. C. Butt, of Perquimans, and J. M. Eason, W. N. Carter, J. H. Hobbs, Ray Hayes, Lloyd Pierce, John Askew, T. E. Pittman, Harry Lassiter and Hurley Asbell of Gates.

Nearly one hundred and fifty men were checked before the jury was finally chosen. Without doubt, this is something of a record in trying to choose a jury for a case in Perquimans. Most of the veniremen were challenged for cause and excused from serving.

Testimony in the case was started at about 4 o'clock, when Belva Haddock, prosecuting witness against Gaither Chappell, was called to the stand in opening the State's case. Solicitor Chester Morris questioned her closely on direct examination regarding the particulars and Court adjourned when the State tendered the witness for cross-examination. On direct examination the girl gave practically the same testimony she gave in Recorder's Court.

Court was recessed until 9:30 Thursday morning. The jury was turned over to Deputy Sheriff Cecil White, who was sworn as their bailiff. It is expected that testimony in the case will not be completed until sometime Friday.

Opportunity Awaits Youths In Aviation Training Program

Youths of seventeen who wish to get information regarding the Naval Aviation Pilot training service should contact R. M. Eddick, who has been named as chairman of the selection board for this county.

This new program is open only to young men who are 17. They may sign up and await a call when they reach their 18th birthday. Some of the opportunities offered in this program are: A nine months college training course during which youths will receive pay from $75 to $90 per month and all training preparatory to becoming flying officers in the Navy. On completing the training and becoming officers, pay will begin at $240 per month.

Officers Capture Three Prisoners Who Escaped Jail Wednesday

Three prisoners placed in jail as the result of action in Superior Court here this week escaped jail on Wednesday. The prisoners are Leland Ward, sentenced to serve three years on the roads, and Wilson Ferabee and Isaac Johnson, both Negroes, sentenced to the roads for 12 months.

The escape was discovered Wednesday at noon, when Court recessed and Sheriff Winslow was placing Gaither Chappell in his cell. It is believed the prisoners, on escaping, walked down Front Street through the Town Lot and on arriving at the fishing wharves stole a boat owned by Enoch Brickhouse, using that for a means of escape.

The three prisoners were captured Thursday morning. The two Negroes were found in Hertford, and officers found Ward at his father's home in the Chappell Hill section.
