DO NOT QUIT: And let us not be weary in well-doing; for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.—Gal. 6:9.

War To The Grim End

The Speaker of the Japanese House of Representatives recently advised a mass meeting in Tokyo that Japan must utterly destroy the United States and Britain or be destroyed.

There is every prospect that the Japanese official spoke the solemn truth. The grim nature of the global war, as he said, "will permit no half-baked distinction between victor and vanquished."

The people of the United States should not overlook the fact that this country and the British, for many years exhibited tangible evidences of good-will to the Japanese people. The conflict that has resulted springs not from Anglo-American aggression but from the brutal and treacherous attack launched by Tokyo war lords.

The statement of Takahido Okada, Japanese speaker, is interesting because he admits that "there is absolutely no room for the co-existence of Japan on one side and Great Britain and the United States on the other" and because he says that these two countries represent "cruelty and craftiness incarnate."

The United States is accused of "attempting to control Europe across the Atlantic and East Asia across the Pacific in an outspoken action of extreme imperialism." In brief, action of extreme imperialism.

The people of Japan will naturally believe what the Speaker of the House tells them. They will undoubtedly be misled by other Japanese officials and, consequently, will imagine the United States as an evil power, determined to destroy Japan. This is unfortunate because it is untrue and because it will lead the Japanese people to their doom.

If they accept the utterances of the war lords, as to the causes of the war, as they probably will, the United States and Great Britain have no choice but to accept the challenge by proceeding to destroy Japan as utterly as the war lords planned to destroy the United States and Great Britain.

Coupon Madness

One thing people refuse to hoard. That's a ration coupon! It burns holes in pockets, starts stampedes, and tricks folks into buying all kinds of things they don't really need. You'd think an unspent coupon was a disgrace.

As the mountaineer did, who, confronted by his coupons, wrote Washington: "I want to be patriotic, but I can't afford to buy all this sugar."

Take Number 17. That was a close one. Thousands almost forgot it. Then came the deadline of June 15. Frantic Americans tore into town with Ration Book Number One, its precious coupon 17 scorching their fingers.

Shoe stores were mobbed. Clothes were torn, feet were trod upon, shoe clerks ran around in a whirl, and exhausted merchants closed their stores that night with a litter of boxes on the floor and half their stock swept off their shelves.

It isn't just shoes, either. Coupon 17 isn't the only guilty one. There are those little red and blue points. They're dangerous, too. Let an expiration date come around, and accumulated coupons come pouring forth in a torrent. Frenzied buyers rush to turn their points into meat and canned goods, regardless of whether they actually need them.

It doesn't make sense. It isn't patriotic. But it happens time and time again. Sometimes you may even find yourself doing it. It's easy to be swept into the current, but it's a current of emotion rather than reason.

The very fact that there are extra points in the book at the end of the period is assurance that there's certainly nothing to worry about. It's time people stopped to think, and refuse to be mesmerized by ration coupons.—Christian Science Monitor.

June 30 Final Date Cashing Old Cotton Stamps Official Says

Merchants of Perquimans County who still have stamps redeemed for cotton fabrics under the 1941 supplementary cotton program must cash them on or before June 30, according to Dr. E. S. White, chairman of the County AAA Committee.

These stamps, the chairman said, were issued to farmers of the County in 1941 in return for reducing their cotton acreage below their AAA acreage allotments, and were used to purchase cotton materials from local merchants.

"Reports received by AAA officials at Raleigh indicate that some of these stamps in this State never have been cashed by the merchants who accepted them," Dr. White said. "The federal appropriation under which these stamps were issued will expire on June 30, and all stamps not cashed by that date will become invalid as no funds will be available for this purpose."

The cotton stamp plan, he said, was discontinued after 1942, but many farmers held their stamps for several months before using them. Any cotton stamps still in the hands of farmers can be used until June 30. During operation of this plan, it is estimated that Perquimans County farmers received stamps valued at approximately $5,042.50.

Merchants desiring to cash stamps still on hand must mail them on or before June 30 to W. Ellis Jones, Chief of Fiscal Section, Food Distribution Administration, Western Union Building, Atlanta, Georgia.

Rabies Inspector Warns Dog Owners

All dog owners of the county, who have failed to have dogs vaccinated, were issued a final warning this week by G. C. Buck, rabies inspector, who stated that the law must be observed before the last day of June.

Mr. Buck requested dog owners to bring their dogs to him before the expiration date for vaccination and thus avoid a heavy penalty.

NUNGEZER—DAIL

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Dail announce the marriage of their granddaughter, Minnie Ray Dail, to Corporal Charles P. Nungezer. The marriage took place on Sunday, June 6, 1943, at South Mills.

The bride wore a sky blue traveling suit with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Corporal and Mrs. Nungezer are making their home at Virginia Beach.

SUNDAY VISITORS

Sgt. Grayson Jordan, of Fort Monroe, Va., and Caspar Jordan, of Elizabeth City, spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Anthony Elliott.

Miss Nowell Weds Edward E. Stokes

The bride's mother wore a dress of aqua silk with white accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias. The mother of the groom wore a dress of blue and white, with white accessories, and a corsage.

Mrs. B. G. Koonce was mistress of ceremonies.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a lovely reception for members of the bridal party, out-of-town guests and a few friends, at their home near Winfall.

Miss Jeannette Fields registered guests at the door and Mrs. Bryan Miller received guests in the gift room.

The dining table was covered with a lovely lace cloth, centered with the wedding cake, and white candles at each end.

Misses Peggy Felton, Ruby Winslow, Evelyn White and Louise DeLaney, of Tampa, Fla., assisted in serving a delicious two course luncheon.

After the reception, the bride changed to a two-piece traveling suit of light blue silk with white accessories, and an orchid from her bridal bouquet. After a wedding trip to New York City, the couple will make their home in Elizabeth City.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nowell. She was graduated from Perquimans County High School and attended King's Business College.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stokes, of Elizabeth City. He was graduated from Elizabeth City High School, and is now employed at the Elizabeth City Shipyard.

TRAVEL BY BUS Save Tires and Gas

Traveling by bus today is good Americanism... it saves your car... saves vital war material for Uncle Sam. The gas you save will help a tank gain its objective. But to use the buses only when necessary is also good Americanism. The Government has asked all to do this.

Plan your travel these days by consulting the Norfolk Southern Bus Agent nearest your home for complete travel information. He can tell you the best time for bus trips, and give you other friendly tips which will make your trip more comfortable.

Of course, bus travel has increased tremendously during the past year, but you will find by planning your trip ahead of time that all buses are not crowded... and by traveling when the transportation is lightest you will find more room on our buses.

But here are a few tips... you will help us to maintain our schedules if you will arrive at stations in plenty of time to purchase your ticket before boarding buses, and having your luggage checked ready for the driver. This saves time and will mean arriving at your destination on better schedule.
