A TRIED HELPER: Thou hast been my help; leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.—Psalm 27:9.

Facts For The File

Now that Italy seems to be on the way out of the war, it is interesting to point out that the last war cracked when Bulgaria sued for peace, four years and three months after the beginning of the first World War.

Turkey and Austria capitulated a month later and Germany signed the Armistice just forty-three days after Bulgaria quit.

Italy has been in the present war three years and two months but the struggle was approximately eight months old when Mussolini "stabbed" France in the back.

What About Housing?

The Perquimans Weekly believes that sufficient time has elapsed since the announcement by Aubrey McCabe, State Housing official, that the priority for a housing project for Hertford had been awarded to an organization in Fayetteville, for this concern to come forward and let the authorities of Hertford know just what progress is being made with the project.

The fact that our local government officials have been kept in the dark on this project since receiving word from Congressman Herbert Bonner that authorization had been made gives it the appearance that something is wrong in "Denmark."

Mr. McCabe, according to information learned by The Weekly, informed a local source that this priority was awarded to the Fayetteville organization because the organization was set up and ready to get busy on the project at once, and since speed was an essential element in this project it was deemed best to award the priority quickly instead of awaiting for a local group to organize for the purpose of being the holding company in the construction of the unit.

If it was a question of speed in getting the project under way, it seems to The Perquimans Weekly that it is now time for the company holding the priority to get busy and start constructing the houses. The need for additional housing facilities is apparent here and if the project was constructed with the speed in which the priority was awarded, then Hertford should soon have its extra housing units.

Italy As Battleground

Allied gains in Sicily and the assurance from Undersecretary Patterson—one of the most careful and accurate of American spokesmen—that complete victory in Sicily is only a matter of days, bear directly on the decisions being made in Rome. So too, most definitely, does the cogent offer broadcast to the Italian people by General Eisenhower. It is reported that these clear and generous terms have reached Italians, not through their press or radio but through underground channels and mimeographed leaflets.

Apparently the Badoglio regime is either bargaining with the Allies, or barring for time against the Germans. Its official radio line is that the Allies said they were fighting Fascism and since Mussolini and the Fascist Party are gone, they should stop fighting Italy. Of course this overlooks the nub of the situation—Italy lies between the Nazis and the Allies and still serves as a base for Hitler's armies. General Eisenhower did not ask the Italians to put the Germans out, but merely to stop helping them.

Possibly the only way for Italy to stop helping Hitler is to let the Allies in. And probably the nearest way to do that is secretly and suddenly so the shift will be complete and Italians will be protected so far as possible from Nazi reprisals. Such an operation may be shaping behind all the talk. But a resumption of Allied bombing over southern Italy is read in some quarters as a sign that Badoglio has already rejected the Eisenhower offer.

What Rome is really asking for is not clear. No realistic statesman can expect to be allowed to escape

It Ain't No Fun . . . Standing Up All The Way

Be Smart ! Stay At Home This Week-end

Don't let anybody tell you it is fun traveling these days . . . it "ain't no fun" . . . when you have to stand up the entire distance of your trip.

But that is what is happening many times, especially during week-ends, when lots of people are traveling to resorts and beaches for an outing, crowding buses to capacity. It's not fun when you board a bus and find no seats . . . just standing room.

But that is how it is . . . and it can't be helped. There isn't a possibility that we can get additional buses to ease the increased demands on our service. So, we must ask your cooperation.

It would be swell if we could add a lot of extra buses to take care of the increased travel over our routes. We did it for you when it was possible, but this is out of the question now.

Office of Defense Transportation governs the number and mileage of our buses and thus with extra heavy traveling during week-ends, our buses are usually taxed to capacity.

We suggest that you travel only when it is absolutely necessary . . . then be sure to plan your trip well in advance. Consult our Bus Agent nearest your home for complete travel information as to schedules least crowded, arrange for your ticket ahead of time and travel light. When you board a bus take only one piece of luggage. This saves time and trouble for us and worries for you.
