CIRCLE NO. FOUR MEETS

Circle No. Four of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church met Monday evening at the church with Mrs. Matt Mathews as hostess. Mrs. E. W. Mayes, chairman presided. The roll was called and routine business matters were discussed, after which the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. L. B. Sitterson. Miss Dorothy Elliott gave an interesting Scripture lesson, and Mrs. E. W. Mayes made an interesting talk on the last two chapters in the book, "Stewardship in the Life of Women." The meeting was closed with the theme song, after which the hostess served a sweet course.

Fertilize Grain Crop At Planting

Tests by the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station show that small grains should be fertilized at the time of planting to obtain larger yields and extra profits, reports Dr. E. R. Collins, in charge of Extension agronomy at State College.

Growers should use 300 pounds of a 3-9-6 or 4-10-6 per acre in the Coastal Plain and the same amount of 3-12-6 or 4-12-4 in the Piedmont and Mountains. On fertile soils, where less nitrogen is required, he suggests 300 pounds of an 0-14-7.

Where small grains are to furnish fall grazing, the agronomist recommends the use of a complete fertilizer carrying about 5 to 6 percent nitrogen for quick growth.

Small grains should receive a top-dressing during late February or early March. Applications of 100 to 200 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre or its equivalent in sulphate of ammonia or ammonium nitrate give good results.

On potash deficient soils, he recommends the use of 150 pounds of 10-0-10 per acre or in addition of 50 pounds of muriate of potash per acre to the nitrogen which is used.

Other important factors, beside fertilization in successfully growing small grains, are thorough preparation of the soil before planting, the use of treated seed of the proper varieties, and sowing the crop early enough to make good growth before the winter freezes strike.

"It costs no more to combine a large crop than a small crop," was the comment of Collins on increased yields.

DEFINITELY EXEMPT

Rocky Mount—Advertising for a "draft-exempt" truck driver, C. Gordon Smith received replies from six men who described themselves as over 21 and definitely "exempt from the draft." All six are in the U. S. Army in North Africa.

BUNDY LETTER

After that, we were relieved for a while for a much needed rest, which was welcomed by all of us. There weren't many of us hurt in action, except from getting run over by our pals trying to see who could hit the nearest foxhole first. I'll have to admit we became very good at it and always kept an eye peeled for enemy planes.

"When we found that the Axis had been chased out of North Africa we were on the move and didn't know where we were going. Most of the boys tried to get drunk, as it was the best news that we had heard in a long time.

"I have traveled over practically all of North Africa from Oran to Sousse, including Algeria, and other large cities. At present we are still in North Africa, but do not have to worry about getting a calling card from old Jerry at night, nor sleep in running position.

"Now, if people back there should think that war isn't hell and are mad because they have to be a little patriotic because a few things are rationed, causing them to be deprived of a few luxuries and pleasures, I think that any of us soldiers would be glad to exchange places with them and do all we could to keep the home fires burning. At the same time, I think lots of those people back home are putting all they can for the war effort, which is appreciated by all of us."

Private Bundy stated he thought one of the most beautiful pictures a soldier could see is that scene of the American flag flying in the breeze on an ancient hill, as the sun slowly sinks behind the hill.
