

Central PTA Meeting Held Monday Night At School Building

The November meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Perquimans Central Grammar School opened with the group singing "America." The devotional was conducted by the Rev. J. D. Cranford. Greetings from the National P. T. A. president were read by the acting secretary, Miss Johanne White.

Mrs. Marvis Robbins, a delegate to the Ninth District meeting held in Williamston recently, gave an interesting report on the meeting.

A review of suggested books for children of various ages was given by Mrs. Edgar Lane. This was timely given since the meeting was held during Book Week. The group sang "America, the Beautiful."

The subject for discussion was "New Processes in Education." It was treated first from the standpoint of the child itself. Pearl Hunter, a seventh grade student, expressed her idea of what a child expects in education. She conveyed the idea that "protected youth means a protected future."

"Hints from the State President," were given by Mrs. Howard Hunter.

A collection was taken for the Katherine Martin Memorial Fund. Special music was rendered by Pearl and Claire Hunter and Howard Hunter.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and during the business session, reports from the following standing committees were given:

Treasurer's report, Mrs. Raymond Stanton.
Membership, Miss Margaret White.
Study Group, Mrs. Jesse Stanton.
Magazine, Mrs. Claude White.
Radio, Mrs. B. F. Bray.
Mrs. H. R. Winslow's room had the most parents present and therefore won the picture.
