

INDIANS WIN

Following the final game Saturday night, the Indians were crowned as champions of the tournament, being awarded the Conference trophy which is on display at the high school. The team will keep this trophy until the tournament next year, when it will be awarded the winners of the 1945 tourney.

Broughton Dail, outstanding forward for the Indians, was voted by the tourney committee as one of the five outstanding players of the tournament. He will receive a special award for this honor.

The awards for the team members for winning the meet had not arrived when the tourney closed, but these will be given when received by tourney officials.

Teams entered in the meet were Perquimans, Central, South Mills, Creswell, Moyock, Manteo, Shiloh and Weeksville.

In the final game, Dan Berry, ace guard for the Indians, held Jennings, Central star forward to one basket; while Thurman White, rangy Indian center, controlled Harris of Central, who managed only seven points. W. B. Jones and George Wood spark-plugged the Indians throughout the contest. Dail hit for four points, White and Jones each bagged five points and Berry and Wood tallied two points each.

In winning the tournament last week Coach Campbell's team ran its string of victories up to 14 for the season while they lost only three games, two of which were won by Central.

The team is composed of Broughton Dail, W. B. Jones, Charles Skinner and Billy White, forwards; Thurman White and Gale Winslow, centers, and Dan Berry, George Wood, Edward Jones, Edward Mayes and Cecil Winslow, guards.

Sgt. J. W. Newbold Awarded DFC Medal

Sgt. J. W. Newbold, U. S. Army Air Forces, has received the Distinguished Flying Cross for operational flight missions in the Southwest Pacific Area from August 1, 1943, to November 18, 1943.

The citation from Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commanding officer of the Fifth Air Force, reads in part: "For heroism in flight and exceptional and outstanding accomplishment in the face of great danger above and beyond the line of duty. These operations consisted of 50 missions, including dropping of supplies and transporting troops to advance positions. These flights involved flying at low altitude over mountainous terrain under adverse conditions in an unarmed transport airplane and often necessitated landing within a few miles of enemy bases."

Sgt. Newbold's wife, Mrs. Ruby L. Newbold, resides on Hertford, Route Three. He has been in service since July, 1942.

The Indians have received their new blue and gold uniforms. The Monogram Club is going to furnish jackets for them. A. W. Keffer gave the team a new basketball.

The students of P. C. H. S. are behind the Red Cross War fund 100% Room 9-A (Miss Scott, teacher) was first to be 100%. The Red Cross War fund totals $34.25, as follows: 11-A, $19.50; 8-1, $13; 9-A, $12; 9-B, $10.56; 10-A, $10.51; 8-2, $5.36; 10-B, $4.50; 8-3, $3.82.

P. C. H. S. went all out for victory during the Fourth War Loan drive. All rooms were 100% in selling and buying of stamps. One-half-hour holiday was given each room on Friday, March 10.

Mrs. Barbee who is teaching the course in driver education, had her pupils to draw posters. Curtis Wilson (10-A) made the best poster. It was entitled "It Can Happen Here." He drew a turned-over car on the highway in which a death occurred.

P. C. H. S. has three composers, Horace Baker (10-A), Colon Jackson (10-B), and Curtis Wilson (10-A). They named their song "Marine Air Corps." Colon and Curtis wrote the words, and Horace set them to music. Hats off to our three composers.

We were delighted to have Bobby Keaton, Mary Elliott and Quincy Riddick, '43, three of our former students, here to visit us last week.

We are glad to have Peggy Felton back in school, after several weeks' stay in Florida.

Many new library books were put in circulation last week. Among them were: Flight Seven, Johnson; Ann Bartlett, Navy Nurse, Johnson; The Young Churchill, Nott; The Navy in Review, Erickson; Varsity Letter, Reck; The Gay Poet, The Story of Eugene Field, Nolan; Robert Louis Stevenson Grover; Father of the Blues, Handy; Joel Chandler Harris, Harlow, and many others.

We are sorry to learn of the illness of one of our former pupils, Winslow Rountree. We hope he will soon be well again.

The Juniors are meeting each week, planning for the Junior-Senior banquet. This social highlight of the school year will probably take place the middle of April.

W. B. Jones, 11-A, went to Raleigh, last week to take an examination to enter the Army Air Corps.

9-A gave a very interesting Chapel program on March 10. The following participated: Oneida Caddy had charge of the program; Edward Mayes, scripture reading; Blanche Mansfield, prayer; Mary Inez, reading "Pearl Harbor"; Joyce Winslow, "We Wonder Why." Special music was rendered by Carl Winslow, Hilton White and W. W. Byrum, accompanied on the guitar by Katherine White.

Mrs. F. T. Johnson (8-1) was called home because of the illness of her mother. Mrs. C. T. Skinner acted as her substitute on Monday.

Hats off to Coaches Max Campbell and Howard Dawkins and to the Squaws and Indians of P. C. H. S. for their part in the Rural Albemarle Tournament. The Perquimans Indians won the tournament cup by defeating Central High School Saturday night. The Squaws lost to Weeksville in the semi-finals Friday night.

Home Canners Plan To Save More Food
With about 400,000 steam pressure canners and 500,000 water bath canners to be produced in 1944, the home conservation of vegetables and fruits should reach new heights this year to help overcome the shortage of commercially canned foods, says Mary Lee McAllister, Extension Economist in Food Conservation at State College.

She points out that glass jars and tops manufactured for home canning this year will be of the same types as last year. Since zinc supplies are more ample now, the familiar porcelain-lined zinc lid that fits standard mason-size jars will be manufactured again.

Then too, manufacturers of the commercial "63" jars promise well-distributed supplies of metal sealing disks to fit jars with this smaller-sized mouth. When these jars that are suitable for re-use in home canning are saved, it is also necessary to save the metal screw caps that originally came on the jars. The jar cap must be screwed down over a new, flat metal disk to complete the home canning seal.

And the rubber jar rings for 1944 will be made of reclaimed rubber and synthetics. No crude rubber will go into jar rings this year. These wartime rings require somewhat different handling from that recommended in pre-war years, Mrs. McAllister points out.

To can food at home in tin calls for a can sealing machine, she says. The families who own such sealers will in all likelihood be able to buy plenty of tin cans, because no limit is set on the manufacture of them for home canning.

"Keep 'Em Grazing" Hog Grower's Slogan

Bred sows or gilts should be kept on a good pasture or they should be fed green colored lespedeza, soybean, or alfalfa hay of good quality in a rack, says Edna Vestal, Extension swine specialist at State College.

He suggests a slogan, "Keep 'Em Grazing," for all hog producers in 1944 so as to save on labor and time to make grains and protein supplements go as far as possible.

For sows and gilts, Vestal recommends that they be fed just enough grain to keep the animals in good flesh. Full feed a mineral mixture at all times. Thirty days before the pigs are born, it is good practice to hand feed a small amount of protein supplement daily.

After the pigs are 10 days old, the sows may be given all the grain and mineral mixture they want. About ½ pound of protein supplement can be hand fed to each sow daily. Vestal suggests a creep for the pigs, using shelled corn or ground grains in the trough.

"Wean the pigs when they are 8 weeks old. Leave them on a green pasture and hand feed them a large ear of corn per head daily. Keep the mineral mixture before them in a dry place. Hand feed a small amount of protein supplement each day until the pigs weigh about 75 pounds. This supplement can be made by mixing together any two of the following materials: fishmeal, tankage, cottonseed meal, soybean meal, or peanut meal," Vestal says.

He recommends that growers provide one-half acre of green pasture this spring for each sow. Grasses and clovers can be used in the western part of North Carolina. In the eastern section, seed 3 bushels of oats, 3 pounds of rape, and 25 pounds of lespedeza per acre in February or early March.

Extra Corn Yields By Better Methods
An extra 500,000 bushels of corn can be easily and cheaply produced in North Carolina this year through improved farming practices, said farmers in a recent series of field meetings held in cooperation with the State College Extension Service.

They suggested well prepared seed beds in advance of planting, as a means of reducing later cultivation.

MRS. SARAH E. LAYDEN
As representatives of the Woman's Missionary Society of Piney Woods Friends' Church, we wish to pay loving tribute and deepest respect to the memory of Sarah Elizabeth Layden, one of our faithful and devoted members whose sweet, gentle spirit, on January 24th, 1944, took its flight to the Heavenly Home.

In the eighty-four years of her life, the last four of which were spent in confinement due to ill health, she exemplified patience, culture and christian consistency, and in her quiet, gentle way she lived a life of love and service which was an inspiration to all who knew her.

She was a charter member of the Society and until her declining years, was always present with a smile and a cheerful expression. In sincere appreciation of her devout faith and loyalty we bow in humble submission to the Divine Will, and extend to the family and loved ones our deep sympathy and commend them to her God.

The committee wishes this tribute to be recorded in the minutes of the Society, a copy sent to The Perquimans Weekly and one to the family of the deceased.

and saving on labor. They emphasized the use of the best local variety for seed and the planting of the crop as early as possible. The use of about 300 pounds of good fertilizer per acre at planting was recommended for most lands because the fertilizer would give quick growth to the crop and enable growers to weed out their corn without interfering with other farm operations.

About one-third of the entire acreage in cultivation in North Carolina is in corn and anything that can be done to save labor on the crop is of great importance. Average corn yields run about 20 bushels per acre and when all expense is counted, the cost of producing a bushel of corn reaches a relatively high figure.

The growers pointed out that the suggested improvements in farm practices would add little to the cost of producing the crop and when the better yields were considered, the average cost of producing a bushel of corn would be lower.

Increased amounts of nitrogen are available for 1944 and growers will have a better opportunity of increasing yields through topdressing. "Increased returns from fertilizer can be expected when the crop is planted on time in a well-prepared seed bed," was the thought at the farm meetings.
