Health Department Prosecutes Patients In Treatment Cases

Recorder's Court In Long Session Tuesday; Has 13 Cases

The Perquimans County Health Department was prosecuting witness against three defendants in Recorder's Court this week, after the defendants had failed to take treatments for venereal disease. This failure, on the part of patients, to take treatment is a violation of the law and the local Health Department is swearing out warrants for the violations, after the patients refuse to appear for treatment or do not heed the pleadings of the Department for them to appear for same.

Thirteen cases were heard by Judge Charles E. Johnson at Tuesday's session of court, which ran weil into the afternoon.

The defendants in the Health De partment cases were all colored: Alverta Lightfoot, whose case was continued until August 1 to give the defendant an opportunity to appear for treatments voluntarily; Jesse Lee White, who was found guilty and given a 30-day suspended sentence upon payment of court costs and that he take treatments, and Gertrude White. who plead guilty to the charge and prayer for judgment was

answer to this is simple. These American paratroopers dropped out of the sky over Normany, took this French village and captured this Nazi tank. Herr Goebbels used to prattle that we were a decadent race. Sure, so decadent that foot soldiers can capture German tanks intact. Note that division insignia has been censored out. Swerved Out To Sea: Disaster Men Alert

Storm warnings were broadcast for this area of North Carolina during the past week-end, when a severe tropical storm, reported to be of near hurricane force, was headed this way from the southeast Atlantic. The storm, however, remained stationary during most of Sunday, then veered off to the northeast and to sea. Only the feather edge of the storm was eported hitting the coast.

Disaster committees and Red Cross officials from Wilmington to Norfolk were notified to be on the alert for serious property damage and possible injuries resulting from the Mik Deliveries To ed to be blowing at a rate of from quimans disaster committee, placed his group on the alert from the time of the first warning issued by the authorities at Atlanta, and the local group had prepared to cope with any condition that might have grisen from the storm,

Many local residents, escaping the heat and enjoying vacations at Nags Head and other resorts, were requested by the Coast Guard to leave those spots Sunday and return to their homes.

The storm, it was reported, was one of the most severe located off the coast in recent years and authorities took every precaution to safeguard property and lives.

It was stated that the storm, after it had swerved to the northeast, was expected to hit along the coast of New Jersey.
