Civilians At War
 The Government needs and asks its citizens in the 178th week of the war to:

- 1—Stay in the fight against a wartime rise in prices. Inflation will remain a danger until supply and demand regain a normal balance. Buy only what you need. Save your money for the better products to come after the war.
- 2—Ask your local salvage committee whether your community has tin collection facilities. If so, save and turn in all discarded tin cans.
- 3—Serve all the daytime hours you can spare if you are a trained nurse's aide. Employ the training the Red Cross has given you, thus releasing registered graduate nurses to use their special skills.

Nationwide Campaign Under Way to Check Automobile Brakes

An automobile brake check program, sponsored by the International Association of Chiefs of Police in cooperation with Government agencies, started April 15 and will end June 1. The purpose of the program is to help save passenger cars from the scrap heap, to maintain adequate transportation for war workers, and to reduce traffic accidents. In 1944, it is estimated, some 250,000 cars were scrapped after they were damaged beyond repair in accidents. To determine whether your brakes are adequate to stop your car in time, a simple brake check is recommended. The check is made by placing an object one inch thick at the base of the brake pedal, and pushing down the brake pedal. If it strikes the object before the brakes begin to take hold, they are inadequate and may be in dangerous condition. Between April 15 and June 1 traffic officers will check passenger cars involved (1) in accidents, (2) in traffic violations in which cars are moving, and (3) cars operated in a manner indicating faulty brakes.

Oil Stove Requirements Tightened; More Electric Ranges Authorized

Eligibility for certificates permitting purchase of oil cooking stoves is being tightened to make sure that the increasingly scarce supplies go to consumers who need them most, OPA has announced. Under the new provisions, local War Price and Rationing Boards in the emergency oil shortage area (all States except Arizona, Louisiana, New Mexico, Texas and parts of California and Florida) will issue certificates for oil cooking stoves only if consumers need to replace oil cooking stoves that they have been using for at least six months before making application, or if a coal or wood stove cannot be used. Coal and wood stoves are not rationed. The new requirement is being made an eligibility test for oil heating stoves also. Its purpose is to prevent persons from acquiring an old unusable oil stove and establishing eligibility for a new oil heating or cooking stove, OPA said.

Assignment of authorizations for production of 57,816 additional domestic electric ranges during the second, third and fourth quarters of 1945 has been announced by WPB. Standard size four-burner ranges are authorized to the amount of 44,816, and the remaining 13,000 will be three-burner apartment-type ranges. About two-thirds of the range production authorized is expected to be available to certified institutions and individual consumer. The remainder is intended for the military services and for housing projects approved by the National Housing Agency, WPB said.

War Bonds For Security

The farmers of the country are among our most patriotic citizens. They can be depended upon to meet their obligations, insofar as possible, in contributing to the war emergency. Farmers have been cutting down their indebtedness appreciably during the period of high prices which has accompanied the war, and this is as it should be. However, these same individuals have found it possible to buy War Bonds in very material quantities.

Baptist Pastor Entertains Board

And it came to pass that a certain man gave a supper, and invited a goodly number of his friends. And when the time came he saith unto his guests, behold all things are now ready, come in and enjoy the feast to your appetites' content. And, behold, when they went in to the supper it was far greater and more abundant than they had even thought of, for there was no lack of anything, not even the "palate ticklers."

And when the banquet was over, he saith unto his friends, make yourselves as comfortable as possible, and let us enjoy a season of real friendship, and thus he spoke, that no time be wasted. And again he saith unto his friends, now let us for a few minutes talk about the things of the Kingdom, things that are eternal.

And the good man of the house led in the discussions, and showed his friends how important it is to put the things of the "Kingdom" first in their daily living, and all with one

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our father and husband, Allen Ulysses Winslow, who departed this life four years ago, May 22, 1941:

A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet that memory still. But death has left a vacant chair That none can ever fill.

The old home now is broken, No longer there we roam, For father is at rest forever, While once he made our home.

Some may think you are forgotten, Though on earth you are no more, But in memory you still are with us As you always were before.
 —Wife and Children.

accord consented unto the thing which he spoke unto them, and it came to pass, as the guests must leave, that they all, with one accord, assured the lord of the house and his good help-mate that they had spent a most profitable and enjoyable evening, both physically and spiritually, and he spake encouragingly unto his guests.

Finish The Job

The joyous news of the end of the European war has been received and V-E Day is now passed.

Let's turn our thoughts toward the struggle that remains to be completed in the Pacific in order that the entire world may again know peace and the men and women of our armed forces can return to their homes and resume their normal lives.

There is no way of knowing how long the war with Japan will last, but it is a fact that the Japs are enemies that must be beaten down to the last, and for that reason we here at home must continue the war effort to the fullest extent. We should continue to do everything possible to help hasten the day when final victory is won.

One of these things is the buying of war bonds, lending the Government the money needed to finance the Pacific war. Now that the Seventh War Loan is in progress, we can give an answer as to how the home front is going to back the boys in the fight against Japan. In the parlance of baseball there are two out and one to go... that means we still have to knock out the Japs... and usually the seventh inning of a baseball game is the time when boosters expect the team to show a tremendous power and overcome any lead the opponent might have or to increase the advantage already theirs. Let's really boost the men in the armed forces by helping to finish the job... supporting the war effort in every way and buying war bonds during the Seventh War Loan drive.

Youth Ready To Leave Home

Nearly every urban community in the United States, regardless of its size, seems to be imbued with the idea that the greater the population, the greater the municipality.

While there may be some difference of opinion as to the advantages of increased inhabitants, there is much rivalry between municipalities in the matter of acquiring larger populations. The effort to attract new residents receives attention from the go-getters of the various booster associations that add variety to modern life.

While it is entirely proper to seek to induce others to move into Hertford, there is much to be gained by developing a program that will induce the boys and girls who grow up in our midst to continue their residence here. This observation naturally applies to community efforts to persuade local men and women now in the active service of the nation to make their homes in Hertford when they are ready to begin private life again.

That America's municipalities are not meeting with success in their attempt to retain children who grow up in their midst is revealed in a nationwide survey, recently completed by the Institute of Student Opinion, under the sponsorship of the Scholastic Magazine.

More than 50,000 senior and junior high school students in 1,267 schools in all sections of the United States, were asked whether they expected to stay in their home town or community when they completed their education. Only thirty-five per cent said that they expected to stay where they now live and go to school.

In the small towns (2,500 to 10,000 population) seventy-five per cent of the girls and seventy-three per cent of the boys expect to leave.

In rural areas, eighty-three per cent of the girls planned to go elsewhere, with only seventy per cent of the boys giving expression to similar views.

We call attention to the comment of M. R. Robinson, publisher of the magazine which announced the poll's results. He says: "Young people in small towns and rural communities are most discontent and small towns must wake up if they are interested in keeping their young people as citizens of the community."

He cites the example of one small town in the Middle West where every student decried the lack of recreational facilities and, distressed by boredom, said they wanted to "check out" as soon as possible.

In Times Like These

When a nation has been at war over a period of years, there naturally has to be many changes in every day living. It affects every community, every person and every business, big and small. Therefore, we wish to say—

Thanks To Our Customers

We thank you for your business during the past and the patience you have shown in the delay of delivery of your purchases. We are sorry that conditions have been such that these delays happened, but we know that each one of you has come to realize the labor conditions of times like these make it almost impossible for operations to continue along normal lines.

We know that our service during the past year has not measured up to the standard that we desire to give and have given in past years, but we hope that you will bear in mind this was due to general labor conditions beyond our control. We made every attempt to keep our service at the high level. We closed our mill for a period of three weeks in order to manufacture fertilizers to fill your orders as promptly as possible. Even then, there were delays in some cases. We sincerely hope that the delay in obtaining your purchases has not caused too great a set-back for our customers.

We are proud of you Perquimans County Farmers for the big part you have played in crop production during the war years, and know that your efforts have helped make it possible for America to continue as the best-fed nation in the world.

Again, we want to say thanks for your patronage and patience during the past year, and it is our hope that before another year passes the world will be at peace and we may serve you as in years gone by.

It is time to buy Nitrate of Soda and Land Plaster. We will appreciate your orders for these items.
