

Drive College Bought By Jan- to Reopen Chowan

Chowan College in Murfreesboro. Creech, who is also the director of the drive to raise $76,000 in his association for the removal of Wake Forest College to Winston-Salem, at a recent meeting which launched the drive to reopen Chowan, stated "our first obligation is to Chowan. Wake Forest to us is secondary."

Creech will work in close coordination with the Rev. Lonnie Sasser of Murfreesboro, who is directing the drive and with the trustees of the college who asked Creech to accept this position.

In asking permission of his congregation to accept this job Sunday, Creech pointed out the great need for the reopening of the school which celebrates its 100th anniversary next October.

The property is owned by the Chowan and West Chohan Baptist Associations. These two associations embrace the Baptists in Currituck, Camden, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Chohan, Gates, Northampton, Bertie and Hertford counties.

The school has been closed for four years and this move now afoot is the most concrete that has yet been made to reopen its doors.

Formerly a school for girls, it is planned to reopen it as a co-educational institution.
