

IN MEMORY OF OTIS MARSHALL WINSLOW
 People of the Whiteston community and many friends and relatives of other localities were deeply saddened by the sudden and tragic death of Otis Marshall Winslow, who was drowned at Harvey's Point August 27 at 4:00 P. M.
 The Young People's Missionary Society of the Up River Friends Church were having their annual picnic. The weather was sultry and the young people decided a trip to the beach would be just the thing.

 They were having an enjoyable time, but we are reminded "In the midst of life there is death." None of the group knew that beneath the cooling waters there lay an ugly excavation made by a dredging machine during the late war, and unaware Otis slipped in. He could not swim, neither could his friends who were next to him. Several in the group who could swim reached the spot as quickly as possible and began diving for him, but they found the body too late. All efforts of resuscitation were in vain. His only brother, just two years his senior, was a witness to the tragic scene.

 As long as we live we will never forget Otis for he, in his short seventeen years, left us so much to remember. His sweet cheerful disposition, his willingness to serve in any capacity in home, church or school. His love for the beautiful—especially music and flowers. The comfort he was to his afflicted grandmother in the home. The stand he took as a Christian, in fact his life in general. A host of friends mourn his departure. This world has indeed been a better place in which to live because of him. His sweet spirit will ever be with us, especially in our church. We thank God for his life, for the example he set, and for the inspiration he was and is to those who knew him best—many, I feel, will draw just a little closer to Jesus because of him. His sweet spirit seems to beckon us on and surely we do want to clasp once again that hand that I feel is still reaching out to us. We shall miss him but we must bow in humble submission to Him who makes no mistakes.

 In behalf of many of his friends.
