ETC Will Observe High School Day

East Carolina Teachers College will entertain seniors from public schools in the eastern section of North Carolina at a High School Day to be held April 14 on the campus. Invitations have been issued to students and faculty members of 303 high schools in 49 counties of the state.

A committee of faculty members and administrative officers of the college is now at work planning a program which will make the day a gala occasion. The academic and social values of college life will be stressed in activities arranged for high school guests.

Among events already scheduled on the program are a concert by the College Band under the direction of Herbert L. Carter, a tour of the campus, a baseball game between Elon and East Carolina Pirates, an alfresco luncheon, a tea dance, and a motion picture. Various exhibits and activities of educational value are being arranged to acquaint high school visitors with work in the departments of instruction and with the program of teacher training at the college.

Hot Ashes Can Cost Plenty In Cold Cash

This is the season when hot ashes cost the nation plenty in cold cash. County Agent I. C. Yagel of the State College Extension Service warns local farmers.

"More than 11 million dollars is lost each year in fires caused by carelessness with hot ashes and coals," he declares. "With the country's fire losses at an all-time high—700 million dollars was burned up in 1948—there is no excuse for such waste."

Mr. Yagel suggested four fire safety rules for farmers during February and March.

1. Never empty hot ashes or coals into wooden, cardboard or flammable containers. Use, instead, a metal trash barrel, preferably of the lid type.
 2. Keep the area surrounding the furnace, stove or fireplace free of refuse and combustible material.
 3. Be sure an underwriters' approved fire extinguisher of the type designed to put out coal or oil fires is handy.
 4. Always use a fire screen in front of the fireplace to prevent sparks from escaping into the room.
- Good habits of fire safety should be taught each member of the family, the county agent said, because "tending the fire" has become everybody's job in spite of modern inventions which have made many parts of the job automatic.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—the risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up night, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

5-Cent Cigar

The five-cent cigar has reappeared in New York for the first time since the war, according to The New York Times.

This is not news. According to a report prevalent some months ago, the five-cent cigar has been on the market all the time—it has been selling for ten cents.

Scout Workers

Boy Scout Week, which comes February 6th to 12th, will be celebrated in many American communities and will mark the thirty-ninth birthday of the organization in the United States.

There can be little doubt of the possibilities for self-development which are presented to boys who join the troops of this organization. Like everything else, however, the strength of the work in any given area depends upon the adult leaders in charge of it.

This moves us to observe that, in Hertford, we should appreciate the contribution of time and effort that is being made by the scoutmasters of local troops. Men who give unselfishly of their time and talent to promote scouting are contributing themselves to the development of our boys. They deserve the thanks and appreciation of us all and some recognition of the contribution that they are making to the community.

Truman Spends, Congress Taxes

President Truman, in his recent appeals to Congress for a developing program, is in the honeymoon period, proposing many things that will benefit individuals and, naturally, practically every proposal meets with the enthusiastic approval of those who expect to receive the benefits.

A little bit later, the White House will come to the necessity of securing the funds to pay for the program outlined. This task will be presented to Congress and the Congressmen will have to find sources of revenue, which mean, in the long run, increased taxation. This part of the program will not be so popular.

In brief, the President promises and it will be up to Congress to pay the bill. In the long run, the process will enhance the popularity of the President and detract from the popularity of the tax-levying Congressmen. In other words, the President plays the role of Santa Claus to the eager beneficiaries, and Congress will be in the role of collector of bills. It is a system that cannot lose for the President and can hardly win for Congress.

The Farmer's Stake

Calling attention to negotiations which will begin in April, President Truman has suggested that the United States cooperate with other nations in order that all peoples can sell each other the products of their agriculture, labor and industry. This, he thinks, will be a sure foundation for economic peace.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, writing a House Committee which is beginning public hearings on the question of extending the Reciprocal Trade Agreements, calls attention to the fact that the farmers of this country "normally produce many commodities in greater quantities than are required for use in the United States" and adds that any acceptable farm program must be associated with keeping open the channels of international trade so that our agricultural products can be sold abroad.

"The American farmer," declares Secretary Brannan, "must not have his products excluded from foreign markets by excessive tariffs and other barriers, or be discriminated against through preference and other special deals between foreign governments."

The observations of the Secretary of Agriculture are pertinent and particularly interesting to the farmers of Perquimans County. The agricultural production of the United States, in tobacco, cotton, wheat and other products, far exceeds the consumption
