Some Hog!

This is butchering time in Perquimans, and we believe a report received this week sets some kind of a record on the size of hogs killed in this vicinity.

A hog butchered this week by Jacob White, of Route One, dressed out out at 760 pounds, and was weighed, after being dressed out, at the Southern Cotton Oil Company.

Mr. White stated that the hog was about 2 1/2 years old and while in a pen for the past 40 days, consumed between 40 and 50 ears of corn daily.

It is estimated that the hog weighed in the neighborhood of about 950 pounds before being butchered.

Bulletin Published On Turkey Raising

"Higher Farm Income with Turkeys," a 40-page bulletin giving results of a study of turkey production in Anson and Union Counties, was published this week by the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station.

The publication, illustrated with charts and graphs, was prepared by Walter H. Pierce, associate agricultural economist. The study was undertaken to obtain information that could be used in planning farm organizations which include turkeys. Anson and Union were selected because they comprise one of the main turkey-producing areas in the State.

Pierce points out that turkey production has increased rapidly in North Carolina during recent years. Cash income from the sale of turkeys advanced from an annual average of slightly more than a half million dollars before World War II to 2 1/2 million dollars in 1948.

2,259 Rehabilitated In State During 1949

Rate of Earnings is Increased From $411.32 To $2,077.92

During the past fiscal year, 2,259 disabled men and women were rehabilitated into gainful employment by the North Carolina agency for Vocational Rehabilitation of disabled civilians.

The announcement came from Chas. H. Warren, Director of Vocational Rehabilitation at Raleigh.

Of those rehabilitated 594 were unemployed at the time services were started, and 1,063 had never worked or had worked only part time. The 612 who were on jobs when their rehabilitation was started were in danger of losing their jobs through disability, were endangering their own health or safety and that of others, or were in unsuitable and unsatisfactory employment, Mr. Warren said.

Mr. Warren estimated that the annual rate of earnings of the rehabilitated group was increased from $411.32 before rehabilitation to $2,077.92 after rehabilitation. This increased rate of earning will continue to add to the purchasing power of the State for years, Mr. Warren said. In contrast, he said, rehabilitation costs are paid only once and last year averaged $362.96 per fully rehabilitated case. The Federal government paid $518,840.72 of the cost of operating the State's program; the State, $301,090.40, rehabilitated, with none awaiting service.
