

Colonial Stores, Inc. Sponsoring Contest

Colonial Stores Incorporated, one of the largest grocery companies in the Southeast, will sponsor a $30,000 cash scholarship award contest, Scott W. Allen, president has announced.

The unique competition, believed to be the first scholarship contest for consumers ever held, has been hailed by governors and leading educators as an outstanding contribution in Southern education and progress. The contest will begin February 23. It will close midnight, March 31. Anyone is eligible to enter, and entry blanks may be obtained free at any Colonial Store—no purchase required.

A total of 60 cash scholarships ranging from $2,500 to $250, in addition to 210 fountain pen and pencil sets and 30 sets of Encyclopedia Britannica, valued at $20,000, will be distributed in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina and in Randolph, Barbour and Houston Counties in Alabama and Leon County in Florida—Colonial's territory.

The awards will be made on the basis of a letter written on one of the two subjects: (1) "Why a young man or woman should have a college education," or (2) "What Colonial Stores can do to make your shopping more enjoyable."

Designed to afford a number of young men and women the opportunity to continue or advance their present education, the contest is open to everyone, and officials of the company emphasized that anyone can enter without charge simply by obtaining an entry blank from any Colonial Store.

Although there is no limit to the number of entries each person may submit each entry must be made on the official contest blank and must be submitted to Colonial Stores, Scholarship Contest Editor, on or before midnight, March 31, 1950.

"Parents can win for their children, older people can win for younger friends or relatives, or they can use the scholarship money to further their own education," Mr. Allen said in announcing the contest.

"This section will prosper and succeed in direct proportion as its people increase their skills and knowledge through higher education," he continued, "and it is with this idea in mind that we have designed our scholarship plan to benefit the area in which Colonial Stores operate."

Mr. Allen pointed out that faculty members of a well-known college or university in each state have been appointed to judge the entries submitted in that state. He also emphasized that neither expert writing nor grammatical corrections is necessary to win, since judges will be searching for letters that are concise, original and sincere.

Announcements of winners will be made on or about April 13, 1950, and scholarships and prizes awarded immediately thereafter.

COMPLIMENTS FOR SOLDIERS, SAILORS, AIRMEN AND MARINES—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson hailed visiting servicemen on their first tour of Washington by declaring, "We know that out in the field with men like yourselves we have unification. We consider it a privilege to be able to meet you and tell you what our aims and problems are. It brings unification of the armed forces into a new era of understanding. Lunch is on me today. Good luck!" Left to right are, T/Sgt. William R. McLand, Fayetteville, N. C.; Secretary Johnson, Sgt. 1st Class Bennie M. Weeks, Newport News, Va.; T/Sgt. Miles W. Melvin, Wilmington, N. C.; Aviation Boatswain's Mate 1st Class Donald J. Sallers, Commerce, Ga.; Cpl. Curtis D...

The Governors of Georgia, Virginia, North and South Carolinas and leading educators in those states will give their opinions of the competition in a half-hour radio program to be broadcast over more than 35 radio stations through the Southeast on February 24.
