

VA Office Assists With Scholarships

Full four-year scholarships, including free tuition, room and board and all necessary fees required of students and furnished by the State Educational institution at which such student has matriculated, are made available by the State of North Carolina to certain eligible children of war veterans. These scholarships are for use during regular school years and do not include summer schools. Eligibility requirements for these scholarships fall into three classes.

For children of war veterans killed in war-time service, or who died as a direct result of service-connected wounds or disabilities an unlimited number of scholarships are available.

Children of veterans having service-connected war-time disability of 30% or more as rated by the Veterans Administration. Veteran must have been a legal resident of North Carolina when he entered service. Limited to 10 scholarships each year.

Children of veterans rated by the Veterans as 100% disabled and drawing compensation therefor, whether service-connected or otherwise. Father must have been a resident of North Carolina upon entry into service. Scholarships limited to 15 each year.

Two years residence in the State of North Carolina is required of all applicants before being eligible. It is emphasized that these scholarships are good only at State educational institutions. This means those which are operated and supported by State appropriations, and not those institutions merely located within the State.

Adopted or step-children of veterans are not eligible.

Those interested in applying for any of the above scholarships who plan to enter school this year must complete applications not later than June 1, 1950.

Applicants are urged to contact C. Banks, Perquimans County Service Officer, Hertford, North Carolina, or Stephen H. Alford, District Officer of the North Carolina Veterans Commission, 206 Kramer Building, Elizabeth City, North Carolina, immediately for advice and assistance.

but the bowing of the head without the bowing of the heart is offensive to God.

One writer says, "The love of God either masters all of life its forms of worship and standards of morality, or it masters none of life. Where there is sincere devotion to God, there will be sincere worship and wholesome conduct."

Records Important Tool For Farmers

One of the most encouraging agricultural developments in recent months is the growing realization that farming is a business, that good business methods need to be used, and that records are an important tool in helping farmers do a better job, says C. Brice Hatchford, in charge of farm management for the State College Extension Service.

As an example, Hatchford cites the fact that some 225 persons turned out for a class on farm records at the annual Farmer's Day held at Elkin. Although the group moved from a small room to a larger one, all of the people who wanted to get in still could not do so.

"I had a few record books with me and I announced to the group that interested farmers could obtain a copy," says Hatchford. "As soon as the meeting adjourned, I thought a stampede was breaking loose."
