

Harriette Layden Becomes Bride Of Broughton T. Dail

of Ceremonies. She wore a gown of thistle with a corsage of pink roses.
Mrs. Layden, mother of the bride, wore a forest green faille suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage.
Mrs. Dail, mother of the groom, chose a blue silk dress with blue accessories and an orchid corsage.
Following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. For traveling, the bride chose a suit of small gold and black checks, styled with a snugly buttoned jacket with bottom trimmed pockets over a straight cut skirt. Her accessories were of black velvet, and she wore the corsage lifted from her prayer book.
On Friday night following the rehearsal, the bride's parents entertained the bridal party and a few friends at a cake cutting. The house was decorated throughout with arrangements of fern, white chrysanthemums and white gladioli. The wedding cake was decorated with white and silver and topped with a miniature bride and groom, under a wreath of wedding bells. The cake was cut by the bride and groom and served with bridal ices to the guests.
