EVERY THIRD MILE

Built By Truck Taxes

When you hear someone say trucks get a "free ride," remember that every third mile of road built by North Carolina taxes is paid for by trucks. The more than $20,000,000.00 they pay every year is enough to provide primary highway maintenance for a normal 3-year period.

Try to imagine North Carolina without the thousands of miles of highway which truck taxes have paid for. Many of the 2,000 communities which depend entirely on truck transportation would be virtually helpless . . . thousands of farms would be isolated!

Or—move to the point—imagine our highway taxes without trucks to share the cost. Your road taxes would be increased by more than $20,000,000.00 per year.

Because trucks share the highway, they participate heavily in highway maintenance and construction cost. The result is that North Carolina gets more and better roads—and you get an efficient, economical transportation service second to none in the Nation.
