The theme for National Home Demonstration Week is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

To tell the story of Home Demonstration work in Perquimans County would require giving home and community experiences of over 300 members. Measuring its value would demand records from this and many generations to come. The other day we were adding up yearly totals of our home-making activities, getting ready for our nationwide Home Demonstration Week. We were feeling real proud of our accomplishments, so we decided to tell the people of the county about some of them.

One of our major accomplishments during the past year was the organization of two new clubs. They are Woodville and Bagley Swamp. Both clubs are small, but they are growing membership and leadership. This brings our county total to fifteen clubs.

Another accomplishment was Bethel and Hopewell's new community house. Although they didn't pay for the building, the H. D. C. women in both clubs have served dinners and used the proceeds to buy silverware for 100, dinnerware, a kitchen range, venetian blinds, chairs and a piano.

We would also like to mention our Music Appreciation Program. This year our county music appreciation chairman and one of our directors attended a training school at EOTC held by Dr. Wilman, and as a follow-up of this, we have had two county music appreciation training schools. These were held for club music appreciation leaders, with discussions on principles of singing, directing and conducting. The first training school was on folk songs, the second was on religious music.

We do not want to forget about our citizenship and clothing leader work. Our county clothing leader, Mrs. Norman Elliott, helped train citizenship and clothing leaders in Chowan and Gates counties on the United Nations Betsey Ross Flag Making Program, and our clubs each made a United Nations flag. One was presented to the county, one to each of our three white schools, and one to the Agricultural Building, and some to churches.

Our February joint meetings or husbands' nights have always been a success but it seems that we have more and more husbands to attend these meetings. Thirteen of the 15 clubs had dinners this year. At the program in February we had an attendance of 376 for the program on "Water Softening" and "Home Gardens."

We homemakers are selecting programs that help to strengthen the American home, which is the backbone of our nation. Therefore, we are placing emphasis on food production and conservation, in our yearly program. Our garden contest will encourage more farm families to have an adequate family garden. The food conservation plans will help us in producing and conserving what our families will need. In May we plan to have a pressure cooker clinic to get us ready for our canning season. Also in May we are having a program on frozen foods.

We also want to take this opportunity to thank the officers of our clubs for attending the officers training school, and for doing such a fine job in their clubs. We want to thank the vice presidents for their efforts in increasing our membership, the crafts leaders for their meeting last November, the family life and recreational leaders for their very good Christmas meetings. And we have to say this to the recreational leaders, we were so proud of your interest and enthusiasm and attendance at our three night recreational schools held by Mr. Lonnie Powell, N. C. Recreation Representative. Community service leaders have given their time and efforts to the Red Cross and March of Dimes drives. Educational leaders are seeing to it that our reading program is carried on, that women are given opportunity to review their books before other club members.

We want to thank our County Commissioners for their interest and cooperation, our District Agent, Mrs. Verona J. Langford, our State Agent, Miss Ruth Current, and everyone, because what Perquimans County has done has been possible because everyone helped.

IN MEMORIAM

On Sunday A. M., February 11, 1951 at 2:10 o'clock at the home, Belvidere, North Carolina, Martha Delphina Winslow, daughter of the late Martha Winslow, and Dempsey and widow of the late J. Calvin Winslow, at the age of 88 years, 5 months and 7 days, passed from works to reward.

Surviving are five sons and two daughters, two brothers, twenty-two grandchildren and twenty great grand children, a host of friends and relatives with cherished memories of her beautiful life.

All of her life was spent in the community in which she was born, but her influence for good was felt far beyond its borders.

She was the oldest member, also a charter member, of The Up River

Woman's Missionary Society and will be sorely missed.

Her life was an inspiration to others to strive for the best things in life. She was a loyal member of Up River Friend's meeting, serving as Elder for many years, always deeming it a privilege to witness for the Master in any way she could.

Her voice was rarely heard in Bible School discussions, or in business meetings.

She had a warm friendly face and her life stood out as an example worth imitating.

She lived, "in a house by the side of the road," and was a friend to man. She was quiet and unassuming, yet with a strength of character and determination that enabled her to live a straight forward Christian life. She had many outstanding virtues, always interested in and glad to minister to the needs of others.

She has been called the "Dorcas" of her neighborhood. In her illness, while enduring intense pain, her thoughts were for others.

It can be said, she had "Beautiful Hands," so much was done for others with those hands, many both old and young will long remember the good things to eat she took with her when she visited them—a cookie, a jar of jam, a jar of fruit, or vegetables and fruits from her garden.

Surely she fought a good fight and having finished her task, she has gone to receive her Crown of Reward promised the faithful.
