Salute To Indians

As this is written the Perquimans baseball team is representing the Albemarle in the State Athletic Association's annual play-off for class championships, and win or lose we want to salute the players of the Perquimans High School for an excellent record achieved this season.

The Indians lost only one game during the season play, and later avenged this defeat by taking two contests from Gatesville. In addition to this, it appears the local team is headed for its fifth straight championship in the Albemarle Conference, which is not connected with the State play-offs.

These boys have added athletic glory to the Perquimans High School, and have exhibited, all season, a splendid sportsmanship and the will to win. We offer our congratulations and say "Well Done."

Community Cooperation

The Perquimans Weekly urges all citizens of Hertford to adopt an intelligent plan of community cooperation. This does not involve the careless boasting that ignores facts or the degenerating pessimism that depreciates everything. It merely requires that the citizens of Hertford should realize that the combined efforts of all neighbors and friends will definitely improve our town.

One of the necessities is a sound business structure upon which to rest other ornaments. The trade-at-home policy, as often outlined in this newspaper, is a cardinal principle of community loyalty. It applies to sellers as well as buyers, and involves the use of money for improving Hertford by spending it within municipal limits.

Shortage Of Nurses

The United States needs at least 63,000 additional nurses, declares Miss Ruth Freeman, of Johns-Hopkins University School of Nursing. She points out that the Army Nurse Corps is having difficulty in recruiting a 3,000 quota.

According to the lady, one of every ten girls graduating from high school must be recruited for nursing service if the nation's needs are to be met. These cannot be filled by using the 205,000 nurses now inactive because eighty-seven per cent are married, fifty-seven per cent have dependents under eighteen and 10.6 per cent are over fifty years of age.
