

Plentiful Foods Listed For Tables During July

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for July features broilers and fryers, Mrs. Nina B. White, county home agent for the State College Extension Service, reported this week.

the month include fresh peaches, locally grown vegetables, watermelons, peaches, plums, lemons, limes and canned applesauce. Other foods listed are honey, canned citrus juices, fish, cottage cheese, buttermilk, and peanut butter. Ten Southern states probably will have a combined peach crop of 17,317,000 bushels this year, USDA crop reports indicate. Last year, production in these states totaled 4,200,000 bushels. Georgia's crop is placed at 4,410,000 bushels, and North Carolina will harvest approximately 2,772,000 bushels, the home agent said. The California lemon crop this season is the largest in four years. Florida's crop of limes is estimated at 280,000 boxes for this year, against 280,000 boxes last year.
